Three City Departments Seek Hearing

Want Same Vacation Benefits As City Hall Employees

Two hundred members of the Newton Police, Fire and Street Departments have signed a petition, filed last week with City Clerk Frank M. Grant, in an attempt to have proposed changes in the sick leave and vacation ordinances extended to cover their departments.

Claiming that any changes should benefit all city employees and not just the City Hall workers, the petitioners are seeking a public hearing on the changes, which would give additional vacation time to the City Hall employees.

Francis J. Pillion, president of the Newton City Employees Local 800, A. F. of L., explaining the move, said, "The petition is not for the purpose of stopping the new City Hall employees from having a week's vacation after six months service, two weeks at the end of nine months, and three weeks at the end of a year, as proposed in the amendment."

"All employees are under the same ordinance. Therefore, if this ordinance is to be changed, it is our belief that it should include all the different employees and not any individual group."

The petition for the public hearing was drawn up, Mr. Pillion stated, as the result of joint action by committees from the Police and Fire Departments and Local 800.

The proposed amendment to the Sick Leave and Vacation Ordinance No. 277 was recommended by department heads to restore vacation provisions which City Hall employees had before.

Plan Non-Partisan Candidates Meeting for Next Thursday

A non-partisan candidates' meeting, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, will be held Thursday, September 11, at 8 p.m. at the Weeks Junior High School in Newton Centre. Candidates for the United States Congress from the 10th District and for the Massachusetts General Court will speak and answer questions concerning their views.

This meeting, which is open to the public, is being held in accordance with the League's policy of promoting more active and informed participation of citizens in their government.

Mrs. Robert Segal, former president of the Newton League of Women Voters, will introduce the candidates and act as moderator. Assisting her will be Mrs. Maurice B. Strauss and Mrs. Charles Ryan as registrars, and Mrs. R. T. Mitchell, timekeeper.

Seventeen of the candidates have already accepted this invitation to state their platform to the public. Ten of them are seeking the Congressional seat from the 10th District. Following the talks there will be a general question period when specific questions from the audience will be answered. Citizens will have a chance to meet their candidates and talk to them individually following the meeting.

Probe Bill Filed by Two from Newton

David J. Mintz and Sen. Lee Would Have Expert Study Made of the MTA

A bill, calling for the creation of a board of seven experts to look into the MTA's financial losses and service reduction, was filed in the Legislature last week by David J. Mintz and Sen. Richard H. Lee, both of Newton.

The sponsors of the bill desire "to clear up the confusion and public bickering" between the MTA trustees and the state auditor. The bill calls for a seven-man commission, three to be named by the speaker of the House, three by the Senate president, and one by the president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The bill asks that the experts be chosen as follows: two transit engineers, two certified public accountants, two authorities on street railway management, and one prominent businessman from the MTA district.

Pointing out the need "for specialists to do a specialist's job," Mr. Mintz stated:

"Only by giving experts a free hand in a thorough investigation can we find the truth about a situation which is continually adding to the tax burden in many communities."

"If waste and inefficiency are the cause of the present poor service and sky-high costs, we deserve to know it."

The resolve asks that the experts be given "complete and frank" access to MTA books and be empowered to subpoena witnesses.

Start Traffic Survey With Count of Cars

'Trafficcounter' Records 24,000 Autos in Day On Washington Street

A new traffic counter is now in service by the traffic divisions of the Newton Police and Street Departments as part of a general survey of the city's streets to determine safety needs.

The machine, named a "Trafficcounter," will be used on all principal highways and other streets where accidents are frequent.

Eight 24-hour counts have been made so far by the two departments. The tests revealed, on Washington street at Prospect street, West Newton, 24,000 vehicles; Centre street, at Church street, Newton, 12,711; Hobart road at Beacon street, Newton Centre, 1634; Cabot street at

The women rule in Newton—at least in voting strength—and there's no doubt about it for they predominate in every one of the wards in the city. The poor male, although he thinks he holds the whip hand, can't even show a majority in any one of the thirty precincts here, let alone any one of the seven wards. It may be disheartening news to the masterful male population but it's a fact.

The voting strength of the entire City now totals 44,433. On April 30, the total voting strength of the city was 40,494, of which 21,153 were Republicans, 4,380 Democrats, and 14,961 Independents. Since that time, 3,939 have been registered bringing the present total voting strength of the city up to 44,433.

Getting back to the male and female issue, however, of the 44,433 registered voters here, 23,879 are women and 20,554 are men, with the women holding a 3,225 majority. As one male remarked: "if the women only stuck together, where would any poor male candidate finish here."

Newton Home-Owners Association Is Formed

Plan Court Action on Issue If Necessary; Mass Meeting Called

With the contention that "unequal taxation in Newton must be stopped," a group of Newton citizens have been holding preliminary meetings and have organized the Newton Home-Owners Association. At its meeting last week, plans were made for a mass meeting to be held next Thursday, September 11, at the Newton Centre Women's Club, 1280 Centre street, at 8 p.m.

"At this mass meeting, prominent local taxpayers will outline the plan whereby we will fight the inequalities in the present Newton tax assessment practice," stated Alfred W. Halper, Newton home building contractor currently developing Country Club Estates in Oak Hill Heights, who is treasurer of the N.H.A., of which Nelson M. Silk, real estate broker, is president.

In a joint statement issued by Mr. Halper and Mr. Silk this week, it was contended that "some Newton property is assessed as low as 10 percent of the current fair market value, while others are assessed as high as 80 percent. The Newton Home-Owners Association aims to bring an end to such inequities between new homes and older homes in Newton."

Continuing the statement said: "The N.H.A. will encourage new home-owners to file for abatement, if they feel that their property is over-assessed. But it is important that they file their applications before the October 1 deadline. Abatement applications may be obtained at Newton City Hall or at N. H. A.'s temporary headquarters at the home of Alfred W. Halper, 5 Wiswall road, Oak Hill, where N.H.A. directors will be happy to help taxpayers in filling out the forms."

"If the assessors will not correct this evil, the N.H.A. will carry this matter to the courts. We demand a clearly defined assessment policy that will apply equally to all."

Recently, the highest court of Wisconsin struck down as unconstitutional the Milwaukee practice of discriminatory assessments. The assessors of Newton have no greater right to follow a course of arbitrary discrimination.

Hope to End Pollution by New Project

Bids for the Re-designed Project to Be Opened On September 19

According to Street Commissioner Harold F. Young, another attempt to award a contract for the reconstruction of a sewer line to eliminate a source of pollution of the Charles River at Echo Bridge, Upper Falls, will be made September 19.

The bids for the re-designed projects will be opened at that time at City Hall. A previous call for the bids for the new sewer line resulted in a low offer of about $98,000 or nearly twice as much as was anticipated whereupon the project was re-designed by the Engineering Department under the direction of Chief Engineer U. M. Schiabone and Designer Alfred Coletti.

If You Own Property Jointly with Another

Where husband and wife or any two or more persons hold property in certain forms of joint ownership, they get the benefit of attractive legal and practical advantages.

Yet, taxwise, joint ownership may be costly. The death of one joint owner may force the survivor to pay heavy estate tax assessments or capital gains taxes. The creation of joint ownership sometimes involves a Federal gift tax.

If you have entered into joint ownership without finding out what tax liabilities might result, check with your lawyer now. Joint ownership may be advantageous for you; on the other hand it may be costly. Your lawyer can tell you.

Two Identical Services to Be Conducted for High Holy Days

Richard Leslie Milhender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Milhender of 119 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, has been enrolled in the 1953 Class at the New York Military Academy, Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Two identical services will be conducted for the High Holy Days at Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, this year, according to Peter Groper, president.

Dr. Albert I. Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, will alternate with Dr. Solomon Grayzel at these Services. Cantor Gabriel Hochberg will alternate with Cantor Ruben Erlbaum in chanting the Services which will be conducted in the Temple as well as in the new Community Hall.

The new, recently completed Community Hall of Temple Emanuel will be the scene of the Service which will be presided over alternately by Dr. Gordon and Dr. Grayzel. This beautiful new auditorium will seat 800 persons. Beautifully furnished and in keeping with the holy day mood, arrangements have been made to provide for the comfortable seating of the worshippers.

Dr. Solomon Grayzel, who has assisted Dr. Gordon during the High Holy Day season for the past several years, is Editor of the Jewish publication, Society of America, and an historian of note. He was ordained as Rabbi of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America and is recognized as one of America's outstanding Jewish scholars.

Cantor Ruben Erlbaum, who will be assisted by a choir and organ music, is the possessor of a tenor voice. He attended the University of Leipzig. In 1938, he came to the United States and continued his studies here. Cantor Erlbaum is a graduate of the Cantors Conservatory of America and is also connected with the Music Division of the American Theatre Wing.

The Rabbin, Cantors and choir will alternate on the two days of Rosh Hashonah. The Services in the Temple and the Community Hall will be identical, as well as the musical portions thereof.

Evening Courses for Adults to Be Held at Newton Junior College

College courses for adult residents of Newton and surrounding communities will be offered this Fall by Newton Junior College, which is now entering its seventh year. Moderate tuition charges will be made to cover the costs of instruction.

In making this announcement, the Director of the college states: "Public junior colleges owe it to their communities to meet whatever educational needs exist at the adult level. Evening classes at our own institution are open to all persons who wish to study at the college level. The only admission requirement is a desire to learn. Any person living in Newton or the surrounding communities is welcome. Classes will be small enough so that all members can participate freely in the discussions or receive individual attention if they so desire. We will have classes which are informal and challenging instead of merely academic."

The general courses to be offered in the first semester will be as follows: Great Modern Novels; Conversational Spanish; the Great Philosophies of Man; kind; Your Child and Creative Art; the Biology of Man; Psychology; a beginning course; Child Psychology; Modern Textiles and Fabrics; How to write Publicity and News; and Investments.

The first will begin October 6 and will close December 19. Classes, meeting one night a week for two hours, will be held in the Junior College rooms in the high school building, Elm road, Newtonville. Evening courses will meet Monday, Tuesday, or Thursday, sometime between the hours of 7:00 and 10:00.

For those who are interested in college credit, one semester's course is worth two semester hours of credit. Such units can be applied, if the student wishes, toward the degrees of Associate in Arts or Associate in Science, which are nationally recognized as the symbols for two years of successful college work.

A special feature of the evening program is the attempt on the part of Newton Junior College to cooperate with business and industry to meet realistically their training requirements. In the present manpower situation, it is believed that a work-study plan can make a significant contribution to increased productivity and to higher morale. The College plans to work with a committee from interested companies in determining work-study policies in any program of long-term employee development.

An informal survey of several businesses in this area has led the College to offer the following courses in the first semester: Human Relations in Business and Industry; Accounting; beginning course; Sale Power; Labor-Management Relations; and, Techniques of Supervision. Registration for first semester courses must be received by September 15. Adults may register in person or by proxy at the Junior College office in Newtonville. Detailed information about the courses is available at the college office.

He will be among more than 100 Boston Commercial Division leaders who will attend a meeting today, at which progress will be reported in the securing of Red Feather captains and solicitors.

Assessments—

"The N.H.A. is preparing the facts for proper presentation of this issue to our courts. It will take every lawful step available to carry on this fight, including the submission of reports to its members to advise them on the results of investigations of the facts in the laws."

"The N.H.A. has engaged the services of Martin W. Cohen, of McCarthy road, Oak Hill, associated with the law firm of Galup & Hadley, to handle the legal details," the statement concluded.

At the meeting of the group last week, plans were concluded for the mass meeting next Thursday evening, at which many new members are expected to be enrolled in the N.H.A.

In the by-laws of the association, the aims and purposes of the group is clearly set forth as follows:

"The purposes of this association shall be to serve the best interests of home owners of the City of Newton, Massachusetts; to investigate from time to time, all laws and facts that may arise having to do with taxes in said City of Newton, and to advise its members from time to time on the results of investigation of past, present and future laws and practices concerning taxes in said City of Newton."

At the meeting last week, which was attended by over 30 property owners, it was evident from the tone of the meeting that the Newton Home-owners Association is determined to carry forth its aims and purposes. It was brought out by practically every speaker at the meeting that assessing inequalities were in evidence throughout the city.

This was particularly made evident in the discussion of valuation of older type homes here, which according to one speaker, have been sold for as much as twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars, yet the assessment of eight or nine thousands dollars which has been carried on the records for many years, has remained static while owners of new properties paying similar amounts had been heavily assessed, in some instances as "high as 90 percent" of the sale price."

One speaker brought out the contention that it was physically impossible to adequately and fairly assess the property of the city with the present number of assessors and that the membership on the board should be increased with "a better and more adequate salary schedule for members of the Assessing Board, put in effect."

The dominant theme of the meeting held last week was that the time had arrived for conclusive action and that membership in the association should be made up of residents from all sections of the city. As one speaker stated: "I don't mind paying my share of taxes for the operation of the city government but I fail to see the justice whereby many beautiful and expensive estates built some years ago but now selling at prices comparable to new properties, escape an assessment of the fair and true value as is evident in many recent sales of such property."

Officers and members of the association plan to have the mass meeting next Thursday night, a meeting of plain and hard facts and invites all property owners to attend it.

Mrs. Edward Huber Heads Salvation Army Drive

William J. Baxter to Serve As Vice-Chairman As Plans for 1952 Appeal Nears Completion

With the enthusiastic backing of city officials, veterans, servicemen, and civic, social, religious and business leaders plans for the Salvation Army's 1952 Friendly Appeal "for human needs" in Newton are rapidly nearing completion.

Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, until the volunteer women's organization so vital to every successful appeal has totaled more than 850 workers, has accepted double duty responsibility this year. Mrs. Huber is not only general chairman but once again is organizing the residential division with its hundreds of friendly, happy "good neighbors." Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood is Honorary Chairman.

"It's just a case of friends calling upon friends — neighbors asking neighbors — to back this friendly appeal — an appeal that is truly 'of Newton by Newton and for Newton,' Mrs. Huber stated today. "This is true because one dollar of every five contributed here remains in the Newton Service Fund exclusively for local needs. Furthermore this fund is administered entirely by a local committee consisting of well-known business and social service leaders who know local conditions and needs best of all. More and more people of Newton are realizing that this fund is truly a "good neighbor in action" — a good neighbor doing the kindly, thoughtful deed — providing the vital help on the spot and without red tape or delay. They hear of many incidents in which the big heart of The Salvation Army — as shown through this indispensable fund — daily helps those in need right here in all sections of Newton — helps those of every age and of every race, color and creed. They have learned too that many Newton residents have been aided by such other regional institutions and activities as the Red Shield Club for Servicemen, located opposite South Station in Boston; Wonderland Camp on Lake Massapoag in Sharon where many Newton boys and girls spent 12-day vacations this past summer; Booth Memorial Hospital and its Home Department, in Brookline, world famous for its sympathetic care and treatment of the unwed mother, as well as many other types of cases, and the Men's Social Service Center and Transient Shelter, 87 Vernon street, Roxbury. Knowing these facts — and once again with the backing of so many of our citizens I feel sure that Newton will maintain its proud record of always going 'over the top' in this Friendly Appeal," Mrs. Huber concluded.

Newton Plans Observance of United Nations Wk. Oct. 19-25

Baxter, 430 Walnut st., Newtonville, head of Newton Civil Defense and a long-time Salvation Army worker, who last year was chairman of collections from business groups in Newton Center, will serve as vice chairman. Another job of great responsibility being undertaken by Mrs. Milton S. Cohen, 20 Oxford rd., Newton Center. She will be residential vice chairman. Other top leaders include: Donald Dana McKay, 46 Woodcliffe rd., Newton Highlands, who last year served as general chairman; chairman of industry; Donald E. Rust, Jr., 160 Chestnut st., West Newton, Chairman of Business Districts; John B. Rubenstein, textile official at Security Mills, Inc., Munroe st., Newtonville, Publicity Chairman Edward J. Poutas, Welfare Director, Municipal Chairman; and William F. Clark, 93 Carver rd., Newton Highlands, School Chairman. In addition to William M. Cahill the Advisory Committee includes Wilfred Chagnon, 425 Centre st., Newton, Roy S. Edwards, 29 Crafts street, Newtonville and Harold T. Pillsbury, Newton City Hall, Newton Centre.

The Service Fund Committee, which daily administers funds for the needy, includes: Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, William M. Cahill, and Edward J. Poutas; also Edward T. Dungan, Head of Soldiers Relief, Newton City Hall; Roy S. Edwards, 29 Crafts st., Newtonville; Miss Emily Hickey, Probation Officer, Police Station, West Newton; Miss Catherine Holden, Family Service Bureau; Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, City Nurse, Newton City Hall; and Mrs. Lucille Palmer, Social worker, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Newton Lower Falls.

This year will mark the seventh annual observance of United Nations Week. Initiated in 1946, UN Week has brought accurate information about the United Nations to an ever increasing number of people in cities, towns and rural communities from coast to coast — people who might otherwise not have access to such information.

When, in 1946, the General Assembly proclaimed October 24th as UN Day — the official anniversary of the day in 1945 when the United Nations Charter was ratified by the required number of member nations and the UN came into existence as a working organization — that day became an internationally recognized anniversary. It is celebrated all over the world and this year Newton plans to take an active part in the celebrations.

The Newton Committee for United Nations Week will work closely with the National Citizens Committee in Washington which has been set up to handle the many aspects of UN celebrations. This National Committee is made up of a council of member organizations many of which have branches or chapters in Newton. The program outlined by the Newton committee will be under the joint sponsorship of all Newton organizations interested in bringing about a wider recognition of the work of the United Nations in our community and recognition of the benefits derived from our membership in this world organization. They will also work with the United Council on World Affairs in Boston under the direction of Mr. Dan Fenn.

A series of lectures to be held during the week at City Hall with speakers from the United Nations dealing with the functions of the Security Council, the International Court of Justice and the General Assembly with its specialized agencies, will be under the direction of the League of Women Voters, with Mrs. James H. Lewis as chairman. All meetings will be free and open to the public.

A speakers' bureau has been developed to meet the specific needs of all Newton groups wishing either a spot speaker or a total program for an entire meeting. The function of the committee will be to act in an advisory capacity helping groups plan meetings, special projects, distribute literature, etc.

Special projects already under way include, library exhibits of paintings done by children in foreign lands, All Nations hand craft exhibit at the Normandy Room at Norumbega, entertaining of foreign students from colleges and schools in greater Boston, entertaining 30 members of the United Nations secretariat for a week and the Festival of Nations to be held at the Totem Pole on the eve of the birthday of the United Nations.

A calendar of events as well as names of chairmen of all special committees will be published on September 18th. This project was initiated by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs with Mrs. Newell H. Traske as city coordinator.

Project—

The new contract calls for two 16-inch cast iron pipes on concrete piers, across the bed of the river, while the prior plan called for a single 24-inch pipe. Under the new contract it will not be necessary to relay a stretch of 20-inch pipe.

Arrangements have also been made with the Metropolitan District Commission to open two dams on the rivers so the water level will be reduced to one foot while the new pipe is being laid. Mr. Coletti explained.

Due to the inadequacy of the present sewer line which overflows through manholes into the river, it is necessary to redesign the project.

As a stopgap measure the city is now chlorinating the sewage overflow in an attempt to reduce the pollution of the river.

It is hoped that a contract can be awarded later this month for the project so that it will be completed within eight weeks after its start.

Harvard street, Newtonville, 2156; River street at Waltham street, 2889; Lowell avenue at Otis street, Newtonville, 7589; Cherry street at Webster street, West Newton, 4320; and Centre street at Allerton street, Newton Centre, 9065.

The next counts to be undertaken are scheduled for Fessenden street at Crafts street, Newtonville, and Watertown street at Nevada street, Newtonville.

A study of the results of the counts will determine whether the traffic divisions will seek the erection of control lights, stop signs, and warning signals or the painting of lines at these points.

The machine which records the traffic consists of a tubing that runs across the road into a metal container. Mechanism within the container records the number of vehicles passing over the tubing.

If you believe in justice and fair play in apportioning the cost of your government, or if you are the owner of property burdened by a high assessment,

The Union Label

In this issue The Newton Graphic for the first time in its 80-year history carries the label of the Allied Printing Trades.

It appears at the head of this editorial in the Bishop and also in the masthead on the front page.

This means that the Transcript Press Inc., publishers of the Graphic is now completely a union shop.

The Newton Graphic and the Transcript Press are both proud of the harmonious relations with its employees and the union label it now displays.

Throughout the years a closer relationship has gradually been established with the mechanical workers who get out the Graphic until now your community newspaper is produced in a plant staffed entirely by union members.

It is particularly fitting that this unionization should be completed during Labor Day Week, as labor itself looks back upon its remarkable progress of the past decade.

The union label means that the publishers of this paper have signed contracts with all the different unions that play a part in getting out the Graphic that the letter carrier leaves at your door each Thursday morning or is on sale at the newsstands throughout the city.

We feel that The Newton Graphic is the finest newspaper in New England.

It has long been recognized not only for its coverage of city-wide news but also for its appearance, achieving an excellence that has been a tribute to the skilled and conscientious workers, receiving union wages, working under union conditions, proud of their craftsmanship and its finished product.

As the Graphic looks ahead to many years of continued service to Newton and to the use of the union label on the printing work done at its spacious plant, it also glances backward with happy memories of highly friendly relations with organized labor that have been culminated with the realization of the objective toward which both groups long have been working.

Tin Cup In Hand

One of the speakers at the recent convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States gave that organization, and the country, some straight, down-to-earth talk.

William Book, executive vice-president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce said that local chambers have inconsistently demanded government economy even as they have asked for more and more tax money for local projects. Then he added, "from one end of the country to the other they have all too often been waiting, tin cup in hand, on the doorstep of the Congress or some Federal bureau for a handout; for a bit of aid to build a dike or a dam, to pave a road, to built an expressway, a school or a hospital."

"Let's admit that economy begins at home. It begins with local chambers of commerce, among others."

The local chambers aren't the only offenders—not by a long shot. All manner of civic, business, agricultural, labor and other such organizations go piously on record in favor of rigorous government economy and debt and tax reduction—and then, in their next breath, clamor for handouts. And all too often Congress and the bureaus, their eyes firmly fixed on votes, provide the handouts—but do nothing about economy.

Yes, economy begins at home, in the grassroots. But we can't have economy for the other fellow—we will have it for all.

Send Them Back Healthy

Vacation time is practically over. The trek back to school will start next week for most.

After a summer of sunshine and fresh air, our children should be ready to ply their books again, refreshed and healthy. But are they? As parents, we cannot take the health of our children for granted just because they have been exposed to sunshine and fresh air for the summer months.

Now is the time for us to have the family dentist fill those cavities in our children's teeth. Let's not wait until after school begins. It's not fair to the children to lose any more days from school than can possibly be avoided by precautionary action. And perhaps the school medical examiner said something about the child's eyes, several months ago. If so, follow up the examiner's recommendation. Take the child to a doctor. Young eyes need plenty of attention. They're being used more and more in studies. So, let's not put this off any longer.

How about those tonsils, the child's heart, his breathing? And how about those shoes? Are they too small? Are they "cramping the kid's style?" Frequent new sets of shoes are a must if we want the child to grow properly.

Let your family doctor advise you on these matters. Don't risk your child's health. See to it that he is thoroughly prepared—healthwise—to face the winter months before school is out again. See to it that the child's education and general welfare are not marred by health defects which we can help prevent now.

CURRENT COMMENT

Primary Battles Center on Local Offices

This is one primary campaign in which the contests for Statewide nominations will be overshadowed by the battles for lesser offices.

Only four places on the State-wide tickets of the rival political parties are being disputed, but when the voters go to the polls a week from next Tuesday they will decide a wide array of hot fights for endorsements for Congress, the Governor's Council, the State Senate, House of Representatives and for county posts.

There are so few primary races to attract Republican voters to the polls on Sept. 16 that G.O.P. leaders are apprehensive concerning the potential dangers of an extremely low turnout.

One candidate endorsed at the Republican Assembly in Worcester is being challenged for his party's nomination. He is Selectman Roy C. Papalia of Watertown, chosen by the unofficial convention as the G.O.P. contender for State Treasurer. Running against him is former State Treasurer Fred J. Burrell of Medford, who is disliked by Republican chieftains but is usually able to pull a good primary vote.

It would be a serious blow to the G.O.P. move for the restoration of the old convention system of endorsing candidates if the Republican voters should turn down the candidate picked by the Assembly, and party leaders are working energetically to prevent any such happening.

A significant sidelight to this situation is that the top men in both parties are striving to bring about the nomination of a candidate of Italian descent for State Treasurer. Governor Dever's organization is seeking to place Foster Furcolo of Longmeadow in this spot on the Democratic slate. Furcolo has six opponents.

Should either Furcolo or Papalia be defeated a week from Tuesday, campaign orators in the opposing part would try to make capital of it to attract the Italian vote. The opposition to Furcolo is so widely split that he probably will win the nomination, and the Republican organization should be able to carry in Papalia.

The hottest Democratic State-wide fight is that between Attorney General Francis E. Kelly and Attorney George Leary. Two other candidates, Mayor Robert T. Capeless of Pittsfield and City Purchasing Agent John V. Moran, are in the field, but neither appears to have the strength to stand up with Kelly and Leary.

Lieutenant Governor Charles F. Jeff Sullivan has five opponents, among them Mayor C. Gerald Lucey of Brockton, former State Senator Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester and former Senator Edward C. Carroll of South Boston.

When Harry Short was arrested out in Niles, Calif., on a charge of burglarizing a tavern, he explained that the reason he happened to be carrying a 12-inch claw bar, a 10-inch screwdriver, a hack saw with six blades and a three-cornered file was that he had a wooden leg and needed those tools to keep it in good walking order. A man never can tell when he may have to stop for repairs.

Philip Giglia of Philadelphia, whose automobile driving license was suspended last March for speeding, won his appeal to have it restored when he told a judge: "I was rushing to put money in the bank to pay my income tax."

Leslie F. Smith of Brownwood, Tex., an advertising salesman for the Frazier Publishing Company's safety manual, was arrested for driving while drunk, driving without a license, driving on the wrong side of the road and making an illegal turn.

Down in Veracruz, Mexico, Manuel Rodriguez Lopez, who reports his age as 103, and Ursula Mendez, 82, parents of two daughters, aged 58 and 56, celebrated their 62nd year together by getting married. It couldn't be said that they rushed blindly into matrimony.

When Herbert C. Fischer of Madison, Wis., tried to outsmart a persistent burglar by rigging up a camera trap to catch him, the burglar on his next visit stole the $150 camera, ignoring a $2 bill, a ring and watch which had been set out for bait.

Patrolman Max Price of Wichita, Kans., is a persistent fellow. While chasing a speeder, he didn't even pause to look back when his hat flew off. He didn't slow down when his muffler fell off or when his siren went dead. But he had to give up the chase when his motorcycle caught fire.

Columnist Frank Brookhouser of the Philadelphia Inquirer reported to his readers that Hubert B. Wolfeschlegelsteinhausen-bergerdorff had registered as a voter for the November election. The indignant Hubert wrote in to say that a "U" had been left out of his name and that the correct spelling was Wolfeschlegelsteinhausen-bergerdorff. (The typesetters will love us for reporting this item.)

Graduated Income Tax

Editor, Newton Graphic:
In the recent issue of "Tax-talk" the Mass. Federation of Taxpayers' Association takes proper satisfaction in the defeat by the General Court of the Administration's proposal for a Graduated Income Tax.

I should like to inform your constituents that I have always opposed this tax. In the first place it will be for most people another tax. It is the duty of government to put its house in order and spend less, not ask for more. In my opinion the proponents of the graduated tax have not been fair or intellectually honest. They have never been willing to write a tax ceiling into it as the others states which have it have done. They also proposed to have it apply to earned income and business income alone, but all other states which have it include all classes of income, earned, unearned, capital gains, etc., in the same package. In other words, this tax would be plus our other forms of taxation.

During the debate on the proposal this year one proponent claimed that it would keep Massachusetts tax money in Massachusetts, just the opportunity I have long sought. I reminded the joint convention that as the son-in-law of a beautiful town in northern Connecticut, I had seen the population of that town double in the last 10 years, people moving there from Western Massachusetts to escape Massachusetts taxes, for Connecticut has no income tax, her corporation tax is less than one-half of ours and taxes on real estate are a fraction of ours. I cited also the fact that there is a place in New Hampshire where 38 families from Newton alone have moved within a few years to escape Massachusetts taxes. The moving away of business concerns in recent times is also a case in point. The graduated income tax would just add to the flight of Massachusetts residents, Massachusetts business and Massachusetts tax money away from Massachusetts, and increase the burden on those of us who remain. Therefore, it should be rejected.

I believe that my arguments contributed substantially to the defeat of the proposal. I hope my constituents will believe me when I say that I have always fought for the taxpayer and against the tax-eater. That will be my course as long as I am on Beacon Hill. It was that motive, incidentally, which led me to try to kill the proposed tax on earned income last year, the increased income tax which everyone had to pay April 15 this year.

GEORGE E. RAWSON,
Representative, Fourth Middlesex District.

store the demolished system and bring it up to Army needs.

A link between Japan and Korea was set up, with a relay station on Taushima Island, and another link running between Pusan and Taegu on the mainland. The two companies then established circuits, through corps and divisions, direct to the front line regiments. Guerilla fighting took serious toll, for the numerous relay stations were under constant assault. As the United Nations forces moved northward, other Signal outfits were delegated to set up an extensive inter-lacing system, and this vast network of communications was utilized not only by the army, but proved vital to the Air Force as well.

The use of VHF proves most effective in both Japan and Korea, for it is portable system which can be installed or moved with maximum speed. Being of 4 channel capacity, four different messages can be transmitted simultaneously, greatly advantageous when used in a telephone circuit.

The radio school, with its 50 students, is passing on the combat zone experience with these Signal Corps veterans, so that members of the Battalion may receive training in both ZI and combat operations.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE NEWTONS

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

Last Sunday, when raindrops were beating helter-skelter upon our roof, we wondered if many of our readers' thoughts ran to childhood and rainy days in the attic. An so we look up Penelope, Rachel and Deborah Newton for a look-see, before modern builders banish attics forever. They are huddled together at the south end of the attic. Penny and Debby are making themselves comfortable amidst doll houses, children's furniture, and winter playthings, neatly packed in cases, as Rachel, their older sister, prepares to read to them. Penny is a delicate, sensitive child, of blond hair and blue eyes. She is wearing glasses which give her a scholarly air when she isn't giggling. Debby has great brown eyes. When she laughs, her eyes crinkle into tiny beads; she covers her round face with chubby hands and her little body becomes, like in the fairy story, "a bowl full of jelly." Rachel is the little mother, and being the oldest, the director of affairs. Her piano concerts never fail to enthrall her younger sisters. She is high spirited and bright, as her flashing blue eyes attest. "Why are you here in the attic?" we ask. "It's raining," they cry in a chorus. "Of course, dear children, how natural to find a comfortable 'chubby hole' — just as your parents before you!" In the big old house, the attic door is usually open. Ancient trunks and new luggage line one side, winter clothing in moth-proof bags are on the left of the stairway. Furniture that once graced grandmother's home stand like orderly sentinels of the past. And oh! to see the treasures in the huge black trunk!

Debby's eyes begin to wander as the story nears its end. She sits very quietly, but her chubby hand pulls at her shoelace as she looks over skirts, skates and heavy boots. Is she skiing in her mind? Skating on a great lake? Climbing white topped mountains? "And so they lived happily ever after," reads Rachel, as she closes the book. "Let's have tea — for our dolls, I mean," says Penny. And Deborah claps her hands. They press their noses against the window pane overlooking the porch, on their way down to the kitchen. "Last one there washes dishes!" They run pell mell down the polished stairs, arriving at the white stove together. Then a mutual thought arises, as is often the way with children. "Follow the recipe!" mother calls "and remember to chop the nuts small." Rachel takes charge now, assigning the buttering of the pan to little Debby, handing walnuts to Penny. Soon a delicious aroma permeates the air — penuche!

The children chatter noisily (as is always the case on a rainy day) as they return to the attic, laden with squares of candy, cookies, and water for tea cups. Mary-Lou, Judy, Sally, Jennifer and Carolyn, old and new dolls, properly attired for the occasion, are propped before their places at the tea table. Ann and Anna, twin dolls, sit in a tiny chair. They are wearing their best blue bonnets, with pink bows that match their dresses. But before tea, of course ladies must dress their best. High heels, large floppy hats, mother's out-dated dresses and old pocketbooks are pulled out of bags set aside for them. In a matter of minutes, 'midst giggling and faked groans, the three children emerge as Mrs. Window-winkle, Mrs. Tinklehill and Mrs. Pumpkinbill. The sound of high heel shoes resounds in the attic as the "ladies" attend tea with their "children."

As we tip-toe softly down the stairs, we hear, "Another cookie, Mary-Lou? My, Mrs. Window-winkle, your Jennifer drinks her tea so fast." And chubby hands hold a tea pot over a tiny cup. Please, Mr. Builders — don't take our attics away!

Attics Are For Rainy Days Three little girls in an attic. ## Half Million Dollar Expansion Program Of Temple Emanuel Nearing Completion

A half million dollar expansion program is nearing fulfillment as the Temple Emanuel School and Auditorium on Ward street in Newton receive the finishing touches. The new facilities include an ultra modern school with 15 classrooms and a large community-center auditorium that will seat 800 people in comfort. The new auditorium is scheduled for completion before the High Holy Days so that auxiliary Holiday Services may be conducted in the new building. Constantly expanding membership has necessitated the new, expanded facilities and now, new members will be afforded the opportunity to worship in an atmosphere of beauty and dignity the same as the usual services in the main sanctuary. As part of the new construction, a complete new ventilating system has been installed throughout the new auditorium as well as the present Temple proper. This new system is designed to insure comfortable, fresh air at all times even under capacity conditions in either the Temple or the auditorium. Included in the new building program is a new chapel for everyday services. The new Chapel, which will accommodate up to 150 worshippers, faces Ward street in the area between the present Temple and the auditorium. From a modest beginning of only 35 members a short 15 years ago, Temple Emanuel now has expanded beyond the 800 member mark and is continuing in its year-to-year growth. The latest principles and most recent developments in modern school design have been incorporated in the new classrooms of the school. Each room has one complete wall of windows and structural glass brick for maximum natural illumination as well as modern lighting. All rooms are extra large and will accommodate up to 25 pupils in maximum comfort. Blackboard areas in each room are much greater than usual to allow maximum student participation in visual instruction. New airplane-type desks are another feature of the modern approach in design of the classroom that boast everything in up-to-date equipment. The Nursery School will have the added advantage of a completely enclosed courtyard for fair-weather play. The room for the nursery school is located conveniently on the lower floor of the new building and has its own bathrooms and other complete facilities. A new library is also included in the new building and already contains thousands of volumes both modern and classical for reference and home study. School registration is scheduled for Sunday, September 14, when a total of more than 650 students are expected to register in the Hebrew School and Sunday Schools for the coming year. Eight full time and twelve part-time teachers comprise the faculty of Temple Emanuel Schools of Newton.

Hailer Running For Congress On Past Record

City Councillor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of Roslindale this week sought the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th district on the strength of the record he has made in the State and city government. Hailer served four years in the House of Representatives and is now in his first term in Boston's new Plan A City Council. He is a combat army veteran of World War II, saw action in the New Guinea and Philippines campaigns and participated in the invasion of Luzon. Offering an exceptional educational background to the voters of the 10th district, Hailer is a graduate of Brown University and attended the Harvard Graduate School of Government. The Roslindale young man has been closely associated with both Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin and Mayor John B. Hynes. He was one of the few office-holders to declare himself publicly for Hynes' the latter's uphill 1949 campaign. As a member of Boston's municipal board of directors, Hailer also has been one of Hynes' consistent supporters in the municipal government. "In offering my candidacy for Congress to the Democratic voters of the 10th district, I do so with a full realization of the great responsibilities that go with that office in times such as these, when every man and woman are hoping for a solution of our international problems and the establishment of a permanent peace in an uneasy world. "If I am elected to Congress, I will maintain offices in both Boston and Washington to serve the people of the 10th district and to assist them with any problems relating to our national government. "I recognize that a Congressman in these times has many solemn obligations to the voters he represents. The more important of these, as I see them, are: "1. To vote only after great deliberation on the bills which come before Congress. "2. To be available for personal service to his constituents.

School Safety Patrols Facing Biggest Job In History

Launch Drive To Cut Down Traffic Toll

Growing concern over the mounting traffic toll among school age children prompts a vigorous concerted effort on the part of educational authorities, the police and the American Automobile Association, to alert all motorists to the fact that the coming school term will multiply the hazards.

An urgent plea to cooperate with the authorities in combating the situation is addressed to all who drive motor cars.

Last year, the AAA reports, close to 3,500 boys and girls under the age of 15 years, lost their lives in traffic accidents. Another 280,000 were injured or permanently maimed. This was 40,000 more than the preceding year.

More Cars, More Pupils
Increases in both school enrollment, which are expected to leap another 1,500,000 at least this year, and also in the number of automobiles in operation, will intensify the problem during the coming school term.

While school safety patrols are credited with doing a magnificent job of helping guard the safety of their school mates at assigned stations, the ultimate responsibility for the welfare of the children rests with motor car and truck drivers.

Grade school youngsters, it is pointed out, are not always responsible for their own well being, despite the attention that is given by schools to training them to protect themselves from traffic hazards. Children are given to the type of carelessness that arises from sheer inexperience and youthful exuberance.

Thoughtful motorists will heed signs being erected throughout cities everywhere warning them of the approach of the new school terms. They will interpret the signs as reminders that it is time to have their cars checked for mechanical safety.

Brakes should be in perfect working order. Motors should be tuned to respond promptly to controls. Tire treads need checking against danger of skidding. Windshield wipers should function perfectly to insure clear vision in all weather.

Use Extra Caution
And above all, motorists should also check their own mental attitudes and pledge to themselves, in advance of the opening of school, to use extra caution in all residential and school areas. Effectiveness of the many steps being taken by the authorities and the AAA to remind motorists of the coming school season will depend on the degree with which motorists heed the warning messages and assume the responsibility of keeping sharp watch for young folks afoot, on bicycles and roller skates, and also in winter time, on sleds. Rush hour traffic, composed for the most part of preoccupied motor car drivers, is the most hazardous of all for children.

Registrar King Issues Safety Rule

Motor Vehicle Registrar Rudolph F. King and police chiefs in Massachusetts have issued the following "Safety Rules" which they request mothers to clip out and use for instructing their children about traffic hazards they will encounter—especially with the start of school.

1. Look both ways—cross at corners only.
2. Walk between the white lines—watch for turning cars.
3. Watch traffic lights—cross only on proper signal.
4. Never walk between parked cars.
5. Never play in the street.
6. If there are no sidewalks, walk on left side of road.
7. Wear something white at night.
8. Ride bikes on right, single file—obey traffic lights—use hand signals.

CLASSROOM WORK FOR SAFETY PATROLS includes pointing out to schoolmates, by means of posters as shown above, that it is important for children to "wait on the curb until they way is clear."

Two Million Teen Ageds Reach Driving Age; Need Instruction

With approximately 2,000,000 young men and women reaching driving age while they are yet in high school each year, the American Automobile Association directs attention to the increasing need for educating more of them in how to handle a motor car safely.

Currently driver training for teenagers is being conducted in more than 9,000 secondary schools throughout the country as the cumulative result of its fifteen year program, says the AAA.

This is actual behind-the-wheel instruction under the direction of experts, as distinguished from the "experimentation" through which many youngsters learn to drive.

Parental supervision is not generally considered adequate for the most successful training of young drivers as traffic conditions through the nation become more hazardous.

Two percent of the nation's annual $3,000,000,000 traffic accident cost would finance driver education for every 16-year-old returning to high school this year, the AAA estimates.

Complete courses in driver education have long been recognized by safety authorities as a proven method of helping reduce the tragic toll among youth.

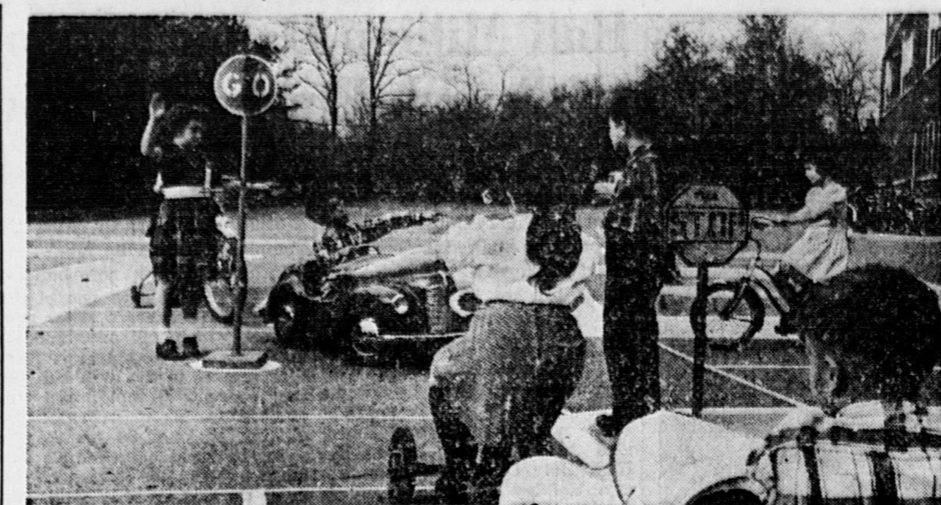

Courses include classroom work as well as the vital behind-the-wheel instruction and supervised practice. Average cost per

Must Share The Burden Car Driver

Most Are Vets, But Some Will Be on Guard for First Time

Almost immediately school opens, the familiar Sam Browne belts and badges of the School Safety Patrols, will be seen again identifying youngsters charged with the responsibility of helping their classmates cope with the hazards of traffic at dangerous crossings near schools.

The great majority of the 500,000 school safety patrolmen who will be on the job in both rural and urban areas are "veterans." Trained and equipped through the cooperation of the American Automobile Association clubs, local police and the schools, they will be cautioned to more alertness than ever this season because of the mounting traffic hazards.

MAKING A REALISTIC GAME OF TRAFFIC SAFETY—Pupils are shown above practicing safe driving and cycling as well as safe walking, in the unique course, in Junior Traffic Training tested by the school. Infractions of the rules, which duplicated those on regular highways, were haled into court where pupils acted as jurors.

Magazine Hails Registrar King's Highway Program

The highway safety program of Massachusetts is the most complete and progressive in the United States because of one man—Rudy F. King—reports the September issue of Coronet Magazine released Friday, August 22.

Before King became registrar of Motor Vehicles for the Commonwealth, the highway death rate was appalling—7.1 persons for every one hundred million vehicle miles driven. Today, through the dynamic showmanship and extensive highway safety program of King, the death rate has declined to an "amazing" low of 3.7.

"This normally jovial man takes needless highway death as a personal affront—a habit which has saved uncounted lives in Massachusetts and has won him international fame in his field," writes Stanley Eames in his article entitled "King of Massachusetts Safety."

While driving in the Commonwealth, a motorist is likely to hear Rudy King's transcribed voice telling him that speeding kills or that alcohol and gasoline don't mix. Many newspapers carry special pleas by King for courtesy and care on the highway.

Each year, continues Coronet, the Registrar averages 150 speeches to teenagers, and for this group, he has instituted safe-driving courses as a part of the high school education. Under King's guidance, complete courses in driving instructions are available to nearly 44,000 students.

Grown-ups are not neglected in the accident-prevention plan. During the year, the Registry puts on radio shows and receives pages of newspaper publicity, all in the interest of promoting safety.

CURB LINES ARE DANGER LINES says the School Safety Patrolman as he spreads his arms wide to hold back the swarming group of children at the dangerous intersection. These young men in white Sam Browne belts need the cooperation of every motorist to help keep our school children safe from traffic hazards.

CLASSROOM COURTS DRIVE HOME lessons in safety taught by the New Rochelle school Junior Traffic Training Course. Here, the small fry jury rules Sister guilty of crashing a stop sign.

School Patrols Get Ready for Another Year

Sturdy young lads wearing white Sam Browne belts adorned with insignia of the School Safety Patrols, will be confronted this fall with the heaviest burden ever placed on their shoulders.

An unprecedented number of their school mates will be returning to classes this year. The ranks will be swelled by more than 1,500,000 other children who will be going to school for the first time in their lives.

The tremendous increase in the number of motor vehicles on the streets and highways of the country, has multiplied many times over, the hazards of traffic from which the Safety Patrolmen seek to protect their school mates.

Members Get Training

The overwhelming number of 550,000 lads who form the legion of safety, operating in some 14,000 communities, are veterans of a year or more experience. Yet a substantial number will be enrolled anew in the patrols this year as older ones move out.

New members are thoroughly schooled in their special tasks. Older ones get "refresher courses." The success of "Operation School Safety Patrol," now some twenty-five years old, is attested by the fact that these alert youngsters are credited with holding down the death toll of all child traffic deaths for all other age groups increased.

Restrain Youngsters

Safety Patrols are organized through cooperation of the schools and the American Automobile Association. Last spring in tribute to the work of the patrols, the Postal Department issued a special commemorative stamp featuring a member of the patrol on duty at a street corner.

The duties of School Safety Patrolmen are almost entirely confined to restraining eager youngsters on the way to and from school, from barging into traffic. They do duty at the curb line, and the skill with which they are trained has won them the respect and cooperation of most of the school mates.

Darkening Hours Most Dangerous

Parents are urged by the AAA to think twice about sending youngsters off on after-school errands or out to play in the fast darkening hours of fall and winter.

Statistics from one large metropolitan area show that almost half of all child traffic deaths and injuries occur between 5 and 8 o'clock in the evening when youngsters are riding off on an errand or playing with the crowd in busy streets.

Sweeney - Taylor Rites Performed In West Newton

White gladioli decorated the altar of St. Bernard's Church in West Newton recently for the double ring wedding ceremony of Miss Mary Margaret Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Sweeney, 51 Wildwood avenue, Newtonville, and Mr. Frank Edward Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Taylor of 176 Cresthill rd., Brighton.

Officiating at the afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Father Saunders. The bride was given in marriage by her father and a reception followed at St. John's Hall in Newton.

With her princess style gown of chantilly lace over satin, the bride wore a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Katherine J. King of Dorchester served as maid of honor, wearing a gown of pink net over taffeta. Her colonial bouquet combined yellow daisies with pink sweet peas.

Bridesmaids Miss Joan A. Sweeney and Miss Kathleen M. Sweeney, both sisters of the bride and Miss Helen Taylor of Brighton, the groom's sister, were gowned in blue frosted organdy. As the maid of honor, they carried colonial bouquets of pink sweet peas and yellow daisies.

Time to Teach Children Safe Walking Habits

"Parents, if you have a child who is beginning school this fall it is time to start teaching him safe walking habits." This reminder came today from Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department.

"The importance of teaching children how and where to cross streets and the safest way to walk to school cannot be over-emphasized," said Chief Purcell.

Going to school is the first experience which many children have in crossing streets alone, he explained, stressing that adequate preparation for this venture by parents makes the difference between a child who is capable of safely crossing streets and one who is in grave danger of being struck down in traffic.

Chief Purcell outlined the following suggested plan for parents to train their children in traffic safety:

"As soon as your child is able to walk and accompany you in crossing streets you should emphasize your own safe walking habits, explaining the procedure of watching for cars, crossing at corners, obeying traffic signals and so forth as he becomes old enough to understand.

"However, if this training has been overlooked until your child is almost ready to enter school, concentrated training in safe walking habits should be conducted during the days preceding his entrance into school.

"Before the school year begins work out the safest route to and from the school considering the streets on which there is the lightest traffic, the corners which are protected by police officers or school safety patrols on duty, and other factors. When school begins accompany your child along this safest route to school explaining how to cross at each intersection.

"When he seems to know the route and safe walking habits, allow him to lead you on the route to and from school. After he has learned the way thoroughly he is ready to go to and from school, equipped with safety habits for his own protection.

"The schools and the police department have a safety program. You will co-operate, won't you?" concluded Chief Purcell.

New Regulation Hits Sparks Chasing Fires, Chief States

Chief John E. Corcoran of the fire department this week called attention of the general public to the revised regulations affecting motorists on the highway when fire apparatus is responding to alarms of fire. He also mentioned the fact that the area for parking automobiles at fires has been extended from 600 ft. to 800 ft. as the minimum distance in which automobiles may be parked in an area where fire apparatus is in action at a fire.

He stated: "Chapter 89 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out Section 7A as appearing in the Tercentenary Edition, and inserting in place thereof the following: Section 7A. Upon the approach of any fire apparatus which is going to a fire or responding to an alarm, every person driving a vehicle on a way shall immediately drive said vehicle as far as possible toward the right-hand curb or side of said way and shall keep the same at a standstill until such fire apparatus has passed. No person shall drive a vehicle over a hose of a fire department without the consent of a member of such department. No person shall drive a vehicle within three hundred feet of any fire apparatus going to a fire or responding to an alarm, nor drive said vehicle or park or leave the same unattended, within eight hundred feet of a fire or within the fire lines established by the fire department, or upon or beside any traveled way, whether public or private, leading to the scene of a fire, in such a manner as to obstruct the approach to a fire of any fire apparatus or any ambulance, safety or police vehicle, or of any vehicle bearing an official fire or police department designation. Violation of any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars. Approved, March 25, 1952."

Kefauver Favors Commission to Study Crime Here.

In reply to many inquiries, Charles C. Kefauver, candidate for Republican nomination to Congress in the Tenth District of Massachusetts, pledged his every effort to work towards the establishment of a Crime Commission for this state, saying:

"I am for the creation of a Crime Commission in this state which will be empowered to ferret out hidden crime, particularly in gambling, dope selling, extortion, bribery and other forms of corruption. Such a commission would have a salutary effect, as has been experienced in other states, in putting gangsters and their ilk to flight. My cousin, Senator Estes Kefauver's, experience in crime investigation shows clearly that the creation of such a commission would be of great value to our community in the suppression of crime."

Atkinson Backers Seek to Revamp Republican Party

Following the theme established last spring by Republican State Committee Chairman Daniel Tyler, Jr., supporters of Samuel G. Atkinson for Congress are basing much of their efforts on the need for a revitalized Republican Party. They see Atkinson as a vigorous addition to the excellent state ticket selected in Worcester last June.

In commenting on Atkinson's candidacy, Assistant District Attorney Sturtevant Burr, stated: "I believe the election of Sam Atkinson to Congress will be an excellent long-term investment for the citizens of the Tenth District. Congressman Martin started his Washington career at the age of 41; Congressman Wigglesworth at 37. Atkinson is 40 and well trained for long service as our Congressman."

Congress Seat

Isadore H. Y. Muchnick, Boston School Committee Chairman, continued to push his campaign for the Democratic nomination to Congress during the past week at house parties and meetings in Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury, Roslindale and Newton.

"This district should be represented by an experienced and mature public servant pledged to liberal and progressive policies, who will, at the same time, oppose the loose management and lax practices which have crept into some agencies in recent years," said Muchnick.

Inviting independents to participate in the Democratic Primary, he pointed out that the change sought by many voters could be achieved by his nomination and election. "This change," said Muchnick, "can be brought about and the voters of the Tenth Congressional District need not align themselves with the reactionary leadership which is opposed to the views of the vast majority of citizens in this Congressional District."

"I agree," said the School Committee Chairman, "that we don't need to burn down the house of nati- l prosperity to destroy the rats who thrive on disorderly housekeeping. Let's clean the house, but let's keep the house and protect it with enlightened prosperity policies instead of inviting the return of the melancholy foreclosure experts of the forces of reaction."

"I have served my native city of Boston honestly, conscientiously and faithfully. With your help, I hope to serve my country as well," Muchnick stated.

Airman 3c Henry F. Nordheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nord-heim of 5 Swan avenue, West Newton, is currently stationed at Warren Air Force Base, Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is taking a 20-week course in cable installation.

A graduate of Newton High School, he entered the service in May of 1952, taking basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y. He has two sisters, Yvonne 3c Edna Nordheim, who is stationed in Hawaii, and Mrs. Edward Tolan of West Newton.

The article states: "Newton's low net interest cost per cent is praiseworthy and gives the city the advantage of a triple 'A' rating. Furthermore, when there arises an emergency which necessitates borrowing, Newton's financial position of a triple 'A' rating, not easily attained, is locked upon favorably."

Scouts and Adult Leaders Back From 7-Day Wilderness Trip

A group of Newton Boy Scouts and adult leaders, including 3 father-and-son combinations, returned Tuesday from a 7-day wilderness canoe trip in Maine. One of Norumbega Council's regular summer activities, the trip offered all kinds of canoeing experiences. They paddled over 50 miles of lake and river water, shot one rapids and made a portage around a dam.

The first leg of the journey was to the base camp at the Narrows on Kezar Lake. Here the Scouts spent a full day taking swimming and canoeing tests, demonstrating their proficiency to exacting Trip Leader George Higgins, a veteran of three previous expeditions. This was followed by a 16-mile round trip up Kezar Lake to an island luncheon rendezvous.

The next morning the group broke camp and paddled down the lake into the East branch of the Saco River to a campsite on Kezar Pond, a distance of about 18 miles. The last day they canoed about 22 miles down the river to their final campsite on Lovewell Pond.

Candidates for County Office To Speak Here

An open meeting, to which the public is invited, will be held by the Newton Republican City Committee next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Weeks Junior High School, Newton Centre.

At this meeting, the City Committee will present all of the Republican candidates for County offices whose names will appear on the State Primary ballot September 16. Anthony Faunce, chairman of the Middlesex County Steering Committee, will introduce the candidates.

Roy Papalia of Watertown, the officially endorsed candidate of the Republican party for the office of State Treasurer, will speak.

In emphasizing the importance of this meeting to all voters, John B. Stetson, chairman of the City Committee, has issued the following statement: "The County contests are extremely important especially since Middlesex County is one of the largest in the country and involves the expenditure of substantial sums of the taxpayers' money. This meeting will give the public an opportunity to become acquainted with the candidates and make a choice."

Further, with regard to the candidacy of Mr. Papalia, the public is reminded that he is the only candidate for State-wide office who has opposition in the GOP Primary, although he was selected as the candidate of the Republican Party at the official Republican Pre-Primary Convention in Worcester last June.

Light Vote Anticipated At Primaries

Rent Control Issue Might Add to Vote

Unless the referendum on continuance or discontinuance of rent control in the city brings out the voters, observers look for a light vote being cast next Tuesday at the State Primaries.

At the Primaries, Tuesday, local interest will center principally in the Republican Representative contest in the 4th Middlesex District where three candidates are competing for the two places, and the Democratic nomination in the same district where three are vying for that nomination.

In this contest, Representatives Christian A. Herter, Jr., and George E. Rawson are seeking re-election on the Republican slate while Alderman Paul S. Rich is making his first bid for this nomination and will seek to unseat one of these two. In the same district, three are seeking to win the Democratic nomination. They are Gordon L. Hawes, Francis "Chick" Morris and Leo M. Cannon.

Aside from this contest, there appears to be few others which will bring out a large vote at the Primaries. However, the vote cast for U. S. Senator, with Senator Lodge on the Republican ticket and John F. Kennedy on the Democratic ticket, will be scanned with interest.

Although the present voting strength of the city is now 44,460, only 25,488 have declared themselves to date with 21,117 listed as Republicans and 4371 listed as Democrats with the balance not registered in either party.

It is quite possible that the rent control referendum will bring out a large number of voters, for on the outcome of the vote on this matter, will determine whether or not rent control will be continued.

Meeting Tonight to Discuss Assessments

Association States "Unequal Taxation Must Be Stopped"

A full and complete discussion of assessment of real estate in the city will be aired tonight (Thursday) at a mass meeting to be held at 8 o'clock at the Newton Centre Women's Club under the auspices of the Newton Homeowners' Association.

In a statement issued last week, the Newton Homeowners' Association stated that "unequal taxation in Newton must be stopped" and stated that at the mass meeting tonight, local taxpayers will outline the plan whereby we will fight the inequalities in the present tax assessment practice.

The association contends that some Newton property is assessed as low as 10 percent of the current fair market value while others are assessed as high as 80 percent and that the purpose of the association is "to bring an end to such inequities between new homes and older homes in Newton."

It is understood that the mayor, members of the board of assessors and other city officials have been invited by the association to attend this mass meeting for the purpose of answering such questions which are asked as they may care to do so, in order that a complete and fair presentation of the facts may be brought out.

In its original statement of its purpose, the association said: "The N.H.A. will encourage new home-owners to file for abatements, if they feel that their property is over-assessed. But it is important that they file their applications before the October 1 deadline."

"If the assessors," continued the statement, "will not correct this evil, the N.H.A. will carry this matter to the courts. We demand a clearly defined assessment policy that will apply equally to all."

In the by-laws of the association, its aims and purposes are set forth as follows: "The purpose of this association shall be to serve the best interests of home owners of the City of Newton, to investigate from time to time, all laws and facts that may arise having to do with taxes in said city of Newton, and to advise its members from time to time on the results of its investigation of past, present and future laws and practices concerning taxes in said City of Newton."

The mass meeting tonight is open to the public and the officers of the association urge all property owners, particularly, to be present.

Favors Special Session "To Clear Up Mess"

Before leaving for a conference in Washington, D. C., on Sunday, Rep. Irene K. Thresher of Newton stated that she was in favor of a special session of the legislature "to clean up this mess."

Referring to the recent disclosures about pensions voted in the dying days of the legislative session, Mrs. Thresher said, "The only two opportunities I had to vote on roll call, I voted against similar legislation."

"On June 12," Mrs. Thresher stated, "I voted no on House Bill 2512, which was a similar pension bill. On July 3, I voted against the supplementary budget, which contained the present much-discussed items."

Robert Cutler to Be Guest Speaker at Kick-Off Dinner

Robert Cutler, President of the Old Colony Trust Company, and past president of the Community Chests and Councils of America, will be the guest speaker at the Kick-Off Dinner of the 1953 Red Feather Campaign in Newton, Wednesday, October 29, at the Newton High School.

Mr. Cutler is one of Greater Boston's outstanding citizens. He has been prominent in Red Feather activities since the founding of the Greater Boston Community Fund in 1935, and was chairman of the second Red Feather Campaign. He is President of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, a devoted church man, and a speaker without peer.

He served as chairman of the Committee of Citizens to survey the health and social needs and services of Greater Boston, and his genius for organization led to successful completion of the Greater Boston Community Survey. Franklin D. Jerome, Newton Campaign Chairman, in announcing Mr. Cutler's acceptance of the invitation to speak at this most important meeting said, "We are extremely fortunate to have a man of Mr. Cutler's ability and appeal to speak at the launching of the Newton Red Feather Campaign. He should give great impetus to our campaign."

Registration Only Five Under Estimate

Although many Newton families have not returned from vacations, 795 more pupils reported for public school sessions Monday morning than did last year for a record first-day total of 13,141.

At the first school session last year, 12,346 students were recorded. As more families completed their vacation trips, the total rose to 12,640 on October 1.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Charles O. Richter reported Monday that the School Department expects an increase of similar proportions this year. The Department's estimate for opening day, Mr. Richter said, was for an 800 pupils increase, missing the exact number by only five students.

The largest increase was registered in the elementary schools, which had 598 more students. This continues the trend toward more children in the elementary grades, Mr. Richter said. He pointed out that the enrollments reflect the economic conditions when the children were born, and that the children now entering school were born during the profitable war years.

Although the high school had 2165 students on the first day, 72 more than the October figure for 1951, its enrollment has been slowly declining. This reflects, Mr. Richter stated, the lower birth rates during the depression years of the 1930's.

Illustrating the effect of economic conditions on school populations, Mr. Richter stated that there were 1374 children entering kindergarten Monday. That is almost double the 733 in kindergartens in October of 1942, while the high school dropped from 2542 the same month to Monday's 2165.

The largest elementary school growth was recorded in the Bowen School, where an added 301 pupils reported. Mr. Richter declared this was due mainly to redistricting, with a "natural increase" of only 125 children.

The Memorial School saw a jump of 105 children Monday, while the Angier School went up 101. The Murray Road School, which is not yet open but which has children assigned to it, has 128 children attending the Burr, Franklin and Davis schools.

Making up the total 795 extra students were 598 in the elementary schools, 115 in the High School and Technical School, and 82 in the junior high schools. There were 8021 reporting to the elementary schools 2644 in the junior highs, and 2476 in the Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston and congressman for six years from the 11th Congressional District, now served by his grandson, Mrs. Kennedy was married to Joseph P. ## Denies Charge of Governor He Is Pension Bill "Granddaddy"

Stating that it was "a sample of the lack of political ethics of the present administration," Sen. Richard H. Lee of Newton vigorously denied this week a charge by Gov. Paul A. Dever that he was the "granddaddy" of all pension bills for legislators.

Gov. Dever, in calling for a special session of the General Court, declared Saturday night that Sen. Lee had introduced the 1947 pension bill. In his statement, Sen. Lee said he could not have been more surprised if the governor "had accused me of tearing down the overpass that collapsed last May in Sullivan Square."

Sen. Lee claimed he "had nothing to do with the pension bill of 1947," pointing out that he had voted against it.

The governor's press secretary agreed Gov. Dever was wrong in calling Sen. Lee the "granddaddy," stating that "the proper term should have been stepfather—at least."

Sen. Lee's statement follows: "I woke Sunday morning to read in the papers a statement by the governor singling me out as the author of the original legislator's pension bill. He charged that I introduced the original act in 1947. I could not have been more astonished if he had accused me of tearing down the overpass that collapsed last May in Sullivan Square to his acute embarrassment.

"I had nothing to do with the pension bill of 1947. This act, Chapter 660, Acts of 1947, was a composite of bills introduced by two Democratic representatives,

Claim "Discriminatory, Improper Pressure" Caused Sign Removal

"Discriminatory and improper pressure" was brought to bear on the Newton Home Owners Association to force removal of a sign attacking "unequal taxation in Newton" and calling for a mass protest meeting, an official of the Association charged last week.

Alfred W. Halper of 5 Wiswall road, Oak Hill, hurled the charge after an official of the Newton Building Department ordered the sign removed from the grounds of the Newton Centre Women's Club because it was not constructed of "non-combustible" materials.

Erected at 1280 Centre street, Newton Centre, the wood and metal sign announces a meeting of Newton home owners September 11 at 8 p.m. at the Women's Club. It urges all home owners to "join the tax fight."

Mr. Halper, who ordered the sign made by a Newton firm, declared that the order to remove the sign was made by Malcolm A. Warren of the Newton Building Department. He explained that, before he ordered the sign, he was assured by the sign company that no permit was necessary for it.

"The sign was then condemned by the official because it was not all metal," Mr. Halper said. He stated that the sign was banned although there were many signs of similar construction erected in Newton "and no one said a word about them."

Temple Shalom Plans High Holy Day Double Services

Following the successful precedent established last year, it was announced this week by President Robert E. Segal that Temple Shalom will once again hold double services for the High Holy Days. Due to the limited capacity of Temple Shalom's facilities on Temple street, West Newton, Mr. Segal announced that the congregation has accepted the generous invitation of the Unitarian Church, 1326 Washington street, West Newton, to enjoy their spacious and beautiful facilities.

The services during the Holy Days will be conducted by Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, spiritual leader of the congregation. He will be assisted by members of the congregation and the temple choir directed by Mr. Bernard J. Siff.

During these services the congregation will be introduced to a talented cantorial soloist, Mr. Ray Gilbert, a music scholarship student at Brandeis University.

Dr. Meyer Ritvo, chairman of the plans for the High Holy Days, in arranging for the seating of the large temple membership, has made it possible for the congregation to worship as a family unit. Plans have also been made for special children's services on the morning of each of the holy festival days.

The regular Sabbath Eve services which take place each Friday evening at 8:15 p.m. in Temple Shalom's own home on Temple street, begin this Friday evening, September 12th. Rabbi Mandel will introduce his series of Sabbath sermons with a discourse on the topic "Secrets of the Season." All members of the community are invited to join in worship in Newton's only liberal Jewish congregation.

Temple Emanuel To Hold School Registration

A new school building of 15 classrooms, modern and well equipped, is on the point of completion and is being readied for the opening of school.

Hebrew School sessions will begin Monday and Tuesday, September 15th and 16th; Nursery School will begin Monday and Tuesday, September 22nd and 23rd; Sunday School will begin Sunday, October 19th.

Says Younger Men And Women Are Needed In Office

In a statement issued this week, Paul S. Rich stated: "I have never been more sure of the need for my nomination to the House of Representatives than I have been as a result of the disclosures of the past week. It has been clearly pointed out to all Republican and Independent that if we do not nominate alert and quick thinking younger men and women, the sad situations created by the present Legislature will increase, not decrease.

"Voters of Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 have expressed to me their views regarding the failure of many Republicans to be alert to the present situation. They have told me that now, more than ever before, is the time for the nomination on September 16 of an alert and able younger group of legislators. I am happy to be included in this circle. I trust in the wisdom and intelligence of the voters of Newton in 1952."

Fall Brings a Scourge of Unnecessary Home Fires

Families need not be told that fall is at hand, but it is timely to remind home owners and householders that fall and winter months bring with it a scourge of fires which devastate many homes needlessly. The National Fire Association's message is brief and to the point, "Clean up—Don't burn up." This is a warning we all should heed before it is too late.

The year 1946 will long be remembered for the series of hotel fires in which over 200 people lost their lives, but most of us seem to be indifferent to the fact that in thousands of less sensational but far more devastating fires over 11,000 other Americans died—more than half of them in their own homes.

We will not tolerate carelessness in others regardless of our own short comings. The public demanded action to stop the surge of fires in the hotels; yet, we continue to allow the ever-present danger of fires to remain in our own home. We demand more of others than we do of ourselves, even though it is our own life and property which we are failing to protect.

If fires in the home were inevitable to our way of life, we could do nothing but regretfully accept these tragic losses. But such is not the case. Most fires can be prevented if the necessary action was taken at the right time. The causes are well known and simple to eradicate. The solutions are simple and the results can be immediate. Perhaps if the remedies were more complicated and were not almost invariably attributable to human carelessness we could more quickly stamp out the fires.

What does fall clean-up and fix-up have to do with fire prevention? The answer is, a great deal if we only act on a few of the following questions we would have few worries about fires destroying us and all we hold dear. Certainly we can "live" with these breeders of fire—but the question is—"How Long?"

1. Have you any old newspapers, magazines, broken toys, furniture or mattresses stored in the attic, closets, the basement or other buildings? What about old and dirty rags? Do you keep them in covered metal containers, or are they thrown carelessly in a pile? These are tinder for sparks and often are the source of spontaneous ignition. Home stored rubbish started 18,000 fires in one year.

2. Do you keep flammable liquids in the house or in or near wooden buildings? Are you sure that the cleaning fluids you use are non-flammable? Do you use kerosene to start or quicken fires in the stoves? Do you smoke while using flammable fluids? Carelessness in the use of flammable fluids caused 26,000 fires in 12 months.

3. How about frayed cords on electrical appliances? Do you replace them promptly? Do you clean dirt and dust away from electrical equipment and machinery? Do you have your electrical appliances serviced periodically? Does indifference pay when 31,000 fires originated in faulty or dirty electrical equipment?

4. How long since you had your chimney cleaned or checked for cracks? There were 40,000 fires originating in chimneys in just one year.

5. Where and how do you burn rubbish, leaves, etc.? Do you burn on wind-free days or do you take chances on tinder-dry days? Do you consider other people and their property and do it safely? Do you obtain a Permit? Do you put the fire out before you leave it?

6. What about the heating plant? Just because it has operated efficiently for years without attention is no proof you are safe—most likely the opposite would be true. How about including the heating plant in your fall clean-up if you have not had it done? Do you store combustible materials near the heater? The toll of this brand of carelessness in one short year was 50,000 fires.

Fire insurance can replace most articles but it cannot replace a human life, if for no other reason in the world, make it your duty this Fire Prevention Week to make your home the safest home that there is.

The Fire Department can extinguish the fires after they start, but it is up to you, and you alone to prevent them from starting.

If you have any Fire Problems you would like information on to help solve, please feel free to call B1 gelow 4-0030 and ask for the Fire Prevention Bureau. This service is free and we are always ready to help prevent fires.

Beginning October 15, Newton Lower Falls residents will be given the opportunity by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association to have chest X-rays free of charge.

The mobile chest X-ray unit will be located on the grounds of Saint Mary's Church, 258 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls.

The X-rays will be taken by the Powers X-ray Service, Glen Cove, New York. A Newton physician will read the X-rays.

Everyone over 18 years of age will be eligible to have his chest X-rayed during this community program.

"Tuberculosis lesions which give no symptoms may be found in an early stage when the length of treatment required is shorter and the disease has had less opportunity to spread. Also, other chest conditions requiring treatment may be found in an early stage," says Miss Ruth R. Raphael, Executive Director of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Volunteers will be needed to serve as clerks at the mobile unit during the X-raying and to help in canvassing and other means of publicity before the start of the program. Those wishing to offer their services may call B1 4-4911.

Act for Yourself!

Going any place next Tuesday?
Frankly, there's one place you should go if you're a registered Republican or Democrat. That's to the polls and cast your ballot for the candidates you believe best to represent you and your party.

Remember the pension mess?
It's only recent but it should bring you up with a start! To those who two years ago stayed away from the polls, through indifference or inertia, we'd like to ask, are you proud of what you did?

Because there is little doubt that those who stayed away from the polls two years ago are in a large measure responsible for the condition of our government today,
State as well as National.

True, a large number of those who did vote, voted for present incumbents but at least they voted. You who stayed away from exercising your duty, however, are the ones directly responsible for the present sad state of affairs.

If you did stay away from the polls two years ago, all is not lost. Plan to mend your ways, be American, go to the polls next Tuesday and cast your ballot. That is the American way—that is the only way to secure good officials and good government.

In addition, make up your own mind on who to vote for—don't let someone else do it for you. It's your State, it's your country.
If you want it to remain just that, then be a part of it, enter into its affairs and above all exercise your freedom and the right to express yourself.

Go to the polls next Tuesday. It's your chance to speak your mind.

Primary to Prove Test of Public's Wrath

Next Tuesday's primary has been all but pushed out of the political spotlight by the terrific legislative row and the history-making session now underway on Beacon Hill.
The big political question today is how the tidal wave of public indignation, stirred by the disclosures of the scandalous happenings at the close of the last regular session, will affect the voting next Tuesday.

Ordinarily, public attention at this stage would be centered on a handful of State-wide campaigns, on the bitter battle between Attorney General Francis E. Kelly and Attorney George Leary for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, and the drive by the Republican leadership to land

Curtis Reaffirms Ike's Criticism Of Foreign Policy

Former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis, who recently returned from a 20,000-mile flying tour of Europe and the Near East, today reaffirmed General Eisenhower's criticism in his Philadelphia speech of the Acheson-Truman foreign policy as "patchwork operations" with "changing policies for Asia," and "little policy for the Middle East."

"My observations in Europe and the Near East convinced me of the necessity for the United States and the Free World to build up their military strength in order to preserve peace—a peace I believe can be won," Mr.
Curtis said.

In recent addresses in Boston, Brookline and Newton, Mr. Curtis said that he would strive for these major objectives:

1. To build peace through a security and strength, and wise international cooperation.
2. The preservation of American freedom against all aggressors.
3. To fight Communist infiltration.
4. To stop political corruption and favoritism.
5. To stop waste of the taxpayer's money.

To this end, the former state treasurer said, "I am unalterably opposed to the sprawling bureaucracy and centralization of powers resulting from the New Deal and the Fair Deal, which dangerously circumscribe the freedom of our citizens."

He pointed out that government controls, orders and directives make "too many of us beholden to appointed officials." He urged the people to remember that the bulwark of American freedom is in the principle of local, self-government from which "there have been dangerous departures" in recent years.

A veteran of 16 years of public service, including four years in the Boston City Council, four years as State Representative, six years in the State Senate, and a term as state treasurer,
Mr. Curtis declared that "the liberties of the people were never betrayed by a legislative body, as they may be by an army of appointed officials."

Mr. Curtis charged that the citizen's twofold obligation to support his government and to participate in its administration has been whittled down to one—the duty to pay taxes.

"Powers intended to be exercised by the states in matters of their own interest have been usurped by executive order. A vast army of professionals has been created by Washington and superimposed upon our constitutional framework," Mr.
Curtis declared.

the G.O.P. nomination for State Treasurer for Roy C. Papalia.

Instead, the interest in this campaign is down at the grass roots on the embattled contests for places in the State Senate and the House of Representatives—on the legislators who are fighting for their political existence.

Fear is privately expressed in the State House corridors and meeting rooms that many legislators, who did not suspect what was going on in the so-called prorogation
"gold rush," may be swept out of office.
That is a distinct possibility.

Never has a more jittery public body convened than the Legislature which came back into action on Tuesday because of an aroused public indignation. Never did feeling among a big group of public officeholders burn more bitterly or run more deeply.

The legislators fear for their political lives, and this is apparent in their action and reaction, their speeches and from the tense atmosphere in which they sit. The spotlight of public attention is centered squarely on them as they attempt to right some of the wrongs committed when they were rushing to speed their session last July.

Executive Director Norman McDonald of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Association, one of the State's staunchest advocates of economy, spoke up before the State Club the other day in behalf of "alert, conscientious and honest legislators who had no suspicion that the legislative processes were being prostituted under their noses by a group of political sharpies."

He said that while there is a public disposition to criticize legislators for not knowing exactly what was going on, the fact is that most people would have been fooled and hoodwinked under the same circumstances.
There is no more stern and outspoken critic of the Legislature than McDonald, and his statement was a fair one.

Unfortunately, the situation is so confused and so chaotic that it is difficult for the voters to know precisely who was responsible and who wasn't, and it is somewhat difficult to single out those who got sold down the river and those who did the selling.

From a general standpoint it is probably fair to state that the average leaders by and large knew what was going on and that most legislators did not. How much criticism should be directed at them for not knowing is another matter.

Public feeling, smoldering over some of the things that have happened on Beacon Hill in recent years and the steady rise in the taxes they have been called upon to pay, has been fanned to a point unprecedented in modern times. It's a remarkable thing to have the legislators driven back into an extraordinary session by the sheer force of public indignation, and that is precisely what has happened.

It will be an unfortunate thing if honest, conscientious and innocent men are defeated for renomination next Tuesday or for re-election next November, as well may happen, but this deafening outcry of public indignation will bring much needed reforms in legislative processes.

It's up to the legislators to protect themselves so that ruthless leaders can't sell them down the river. It's up to them to do away with all-night sessions so that measures can be considered properly, and it's up to them to change some of their processes so that they will know the significance of their votes. That's their responsibility, and that's why the people elected them to office in the first place.

They're not innocent, unsuspecting babes-in-arms. They're politicians who ran for public office and achieved election.

The thoughtful voter, in deciding how to mark his ballot next Tuesday, can and should consider the over-all records of their elected officials from the standpoint of honest and conscientious service over a period of time.

One thing that should be very clear to politicians is that when the public wrath is aroused it becomes an awesome thing.

Vote for the Change

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Advance copies from the Secretary of State's office re: Newton's municipal elections, to be submitted to Newton citizens on election day, just 50 days away from this week's primary voting, for referendum vote will read:

"Shall an act passed by the general court in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-two entitled, 'An Act repealing the provisions of the law providing for preferential voting at municipal elections in the city of Newton and making the general municipal election laws therein, be accepted?'"

In spite of the legislative bill being approved on April 1, 1952,
I do not want any Newton citizen to be "fooled" re: the importance of the recommended change from the "archaic" system, functioning in Newton since 1915, the Only city in Massachusetts to operate its voting privileges under such a plan.

Our own four Representatives and Senator endorsed this change in election procedure in Newton which is most creditable. No objectors appeared at the public hearing before the committee.

What I am trying to off-set is some "fool" act agitating the retaining of the "archaic" preferential voting system in Newton's city elections.

The operation of the acceptance of my bill, approved by the legislature, allows for the same "qualified" voters required to nominate municipal officers in the city of Newton shall be as follows for the office of mayor, one hundred signatures; for alderman-at-large, fifty signatures, and for members of the school committee, fifty signatures; for alderman by ward, twenty-five signatures." There is absolutely no change from the present nomination system, therefore no extra cost to the city. Even the Newton Taxpayer's Association should pay heed to this plan, in fact, endorse its adoption, because even the election costs will be lessened!

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, just 50 days hence, do some 80,000 eligible voters in Newton, want to live under a fully accepted
"modern" system of voting in Newton's elections or maintain an "archaic" system that Never accomplished the purpose for which it was originally intended by a then "machine-ridden" city?"

Let us continue to be non-partisan and independent in Newton's city elections! Vote YES, Nov. 4 to preserve Newton's O W N "independence" whether Eisenhower or Stevenson is your choice!

the inequities in the present Newton tax assessment practice. Some Newton property is assessed as low as 10% of a fair market value, while others are assessed as high as 80%. If you believe in justice and fair play in apportioning the cost of your government, or if you are the owner of property burdened by a a clearly defined tax assessment policy that will apply equally to all. Recently, the highest court of Wisconsin struck down as unconstitutional the Milwaukee practice of discriminatory assessments. The assessors of Newton have no greater right to follow a course of arbitrary discrimination. The Newton Home-Owners Association is conducting a campaign to correct this inequity. It is preparing the facts for a proper presentation of this issue to our courts. It

Championship Tournament of Newton Archers Held Sept. 1

The annual championship tournament of the Newton Archers was held Labor Day, Sept. 1 on the Newton Center Play-ground. Victor Semay is the new club champion, soundly defeating last year's champion, Ray Buell. Reg Hunt, also a former champion, was second, and Paul Husman, a new member in the club from Cincinnati, was third. Mr. Lemay had 191 hits out of a possible 234 for 1035 points; Mr. Hunt, 179-945, and Paul Husman 153-751.

It was an open championship and many archers from all over Massachusetts attended. For the second straight year James Waterman of Springfield won the open championship. Mr. Waterman is one of archery's top shots, having held the state crown many times, club championship and Eastern states awards. For the visiting men, Joe Maggione of Waltham was second, and Gus Dick of Worcester third.

The women's awards were as expected. Polly Willard of Northampton, last year's state champion and runner-up this year, took first place. Following close behind was Polly Pacquette, also of Northampton, and Christine Cowles, a Springfield archer, was third.

As is customary at all major shoots, range prizes are awarded for the various distances, with all winners of major prizes eliminated from these awards. The winners at the various distances were:

100 yards, 54 hits 246 pts.—Gene Small.
80 yards, 46 hits, 244 points—Ed Nevin.
60 yards, 30 hits, 206 points, Roger Poirer.
50 yards, 30 hits, 214 points—Bill Rogers.
40 yards, 30 hits, 218 points—Don Willard.

It was an eventful day in that several well-known persons in the archery world of a few years back attended the shoot. Stella Ives, one of Newton's charter members, attended, and G. Aldersly Clark, one of the founders of the Waltham Archery Club, and instructor of Bill Long, former Newton and Eastern champion, attended.

As in past years, it was planned that the junior championship would be held, but Ray Buell, chairman of the juniors, announced that it will be held on a separate day. This change was made in an attempt to foster more interest among the junior members. The day will be set after school opens.

In the junior shoot, William Hayden of Worcester, state champion for the second straight year, received a first-place award. Charles Robbins of Newton, second, and Peter Higgins, also a Newton member, won third place.

After the shoot coffee and doughnuts were served in the clubhouse, and the prizes were awarded.

Howard Denton, club president, was field captain, and Maybelle Buell was in charge of the juniors.

Oakes Supports Charles Kefauver In Congress Fight

George F. Oakes, Republican candidate for Mayor of Boston in 1949 and for the Boston City Council in 1951, announced today his support of Charles C. Kefauver, of Brookline, as candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress in the Tenth District of Massachusetts.

Mr. Oakes stated: "Many Republicans have asked my opinion as to the best available candidate for Congress in the Tenth District. I have studied the issues, compared the candidates, and my choice is Charles Kefauver."

"Today's need and trend is to select new names and new faces, and to encourage self-made business men like Kefauver, instead of professional politicians, to run for public office."

"The urgency of nominating Kefauver to Congress is in making use of the magic vote-getting name he possesses and utilizing its tremendous proven value in attracting the Independent and Democratic followers of his cousin, Senator Estes Kefauver, who has also won him success as a Republican."

"I am pleased to endorse Charles C. Kefauver for Congress. I have known him for many years in business. He is a man of ability, independence, fearlessness and unassailable integrity. He will make a fine, conscientious public servant."

Critics of Hailer Answered; Not Abuse of Legislative Process

Both Democratic and Republican legislators this week came to the defense of Representative Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., who is seeking election to Congress in the Herter district, and declared that the facts concerning the job of Hailer's father as Secretary of the State Pharmacy Board have not been fully and fairly presented to the public.

Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons, a member of the opposite political party from Hailer, declared that the adoption of the bill increasing the duties and pay of Hailer, Sr., was in no sense an abuse of the legislative process.

Other legislators explained that the measure involved an adjustment of both duties and pay, that Mr. Hailer, a well known and respected Roslindale druggist, was being asked to assume the position of secretary on a full-time basis and that his pay was to be increased correspondingly.

They said that it was felt that the Massachusetts Pharmacy Board should have a full-time secretary, as is the case in many other States, and that Hailer, Sr., who has held the job on a part-time basis for the last six years and is a druggist of long standing, was the logical man for the position.

"This is not a pay grab in any sense of the word," a group of legislators declared. "As the part-time secretary of the board, Mr. Hailer was paid about $34 a week. As the full-time secretary of the board, he would get about $86 a week which in these times is hardly a fat salary for a man of his standing and stature."

They stressed that the Hailer bill was publicly debated and discussed in open session, that it was not "sneaked" through to enactment, that the legislators thoroughly understood its intent and provisions and that at the time it was considered worthy of only passing notice by the newspapers.

"Newspaper reporters covering the State House considered the State was getting something of a bargain in acquiring the services of a well known druggist such as Mr. Hailer at a salary of $86 a week," one legislator asserted, "and little is said when the State does get a bargain from some public spirited citizen."

Representative Hailer himself also answered critics of the bill concerning his father and outlined the facts concerning it.

"I sponsored the bill changing my father's status as secretary of the State Pharmacy Board," Representative Hailer declared. "I offer no apology for doing so, but in a few of the unfair attacks upon me, I think the people are entitled to the facts behind this incident."

"First let me say that I am proud to put my name to any bill concerning my father. He is an honorable man, and I hope that I have been an honorable public servant. I have always endeavored to be one, and in my comparatively short public career I have never been associated with anything that could be considered under-handed."

"The facts concerning my father's bill are these:

"For a long time it was felt that the State Pharmacy Board should have a full-time secretary. Druggists all over the State expressed the opinion that one was needed. My father, who has been a druggist for 30 years, was asked if he would take over the position on a full-time basis. At first he turned down the idea but finally agreed to do so."

"When I learned that this bill was to be filed, I asked that my name be placed on it. Other legislators were prepared to present it, but I wanted to be the only one to sponsor a measure concerning my father. I did, and I considered it an honor."

"Since then the facts have been unfairly distorted to make this appear as a salary grab. Nothing could be further from the truth."

"When the matter was discussed on the floor of the House — and various aspects of the plan were debated for nearly an hour — the support of the proposal was of such a nature that a roll call was not even requested."

"My father has been associated with the Pharmacy Board for the past seven years and for the last six years has been its secretary. His salary in that capacity was $1800 annually, representing about $34 a week, and it is fair to say that he served at some sacrifice to himself."

"When the question of fixing a salary for the full-time position was discussed, some legislators felt it should be much higher than $4500 a year. In Connecticut, for example, the Pharmacy Board secretary, with fewer duties and less drug stores to supervise, gets $8000 annually.

FREDERICK C. HAILER, JR.

"Under all the circumstances both Democrats and Republicans felt that $4500 was an extremely modest salary."

Representative Hailer said that as an elected official he has endeavored to serve honestly, honorably and conscientiously. "If it is wrong for a son to put his name on a bill concerning his father, then I am guilty of a wrong," said Hailer. "Personally, I consider it an honor."

"I am a candidate for Congress in the 10th district. My name will be on the Democratic ballot next Tuesday. I have presented the facts in this incident, which have drawn criticism from as fully and as completely as newspaper space will permit."

"I now leave it to the fair-minded people to decide whether I acted honorably," Representative Hailer declared.

Enjoy Three Week Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Nash of 200 Church street, Newton, have returned home from a 3-week vacation tour in New York City, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and several cities in Virginia.

While in Philadelphia, they visited Independence Hall and saw the Liberty Bell. They also saw the Betsy Ross House where the original American Flag was first made, besides many other historical buildings and places including Valley Forge.

Their visit to Washington included trips to the White House, the Library of Congress and many other public buildings. A visit was also made to Arlington National Cemetery, where they saw the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and to Mount Vernon, home of George Washington.

At Charlottesville, Va., they toured Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson, and Ash Lawn, home of James Monroe. Trips were also made to Yorktown, site of a famous Revolutionary War battle, and to Jamestown, site of the first permanent English settlement in the New World.

Several days were spent in Williamsburg, Va., a quaint, historical and interesting city which has been restored to its Colonial days appearance. Another place visited was the beautiful caverns at Luray, Va., located in the heart of the Shenandoah Valley and near the picturesque Blue Ridge Mountains.

Hold Get-Together Next Monday

Parents will have the opportunity to meet Miss March and their children's teacher, and also to learn of the school's various activities. Refreshments will be served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arnold Aron and Mrs. William Gorin.

Officers of the Ward School P. T. A. are Mrs. David J. Cohen, president; Mrs. William Carmen, vice-president and recording secretary; Mrs. Leo Caroline, treasurer; Mrs. Edward J. Levenson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Leon Sternfeld and Miss Helen Punch, program chairmen.

Muchnick Relies On Vote Getting Power in Congressional Try

School Committeeman Isadore H. Y. Muchnick this week offered himself to voters in the 10th congressional district as the Democratic candidate who can win election in November.

Muchnick is seeking the seat which Congressman Christian A. Herter is vacating in order to run for the Governorship.

He is receiving strong support from Democratic leaders and members of organized labor who declare that his nomination may make it possible for the Democratic party to pick up an additional congressional seat in Massachusetts.

The Herter district has never elected a Democratic Congressman, but Muchnick's backers assert that it has never had a Democratic candidate with the potential vote-drawing power of the Boston School Committee Chairman.

ISADORE H. Y. MUCHNICK

Muchnick is serving his fifth year as a member of the Hub School Board and is its presiding officer.

Originally, he planned to retire from the School Committee last year, but he was persuaded by members of the New Boston Committee to stand for another term. That position is unsalaried.

A graduate of the Boston Latin School, Harvard College and the Harvard Law School, achieving high scholastic honors at all three noted institutions, Muchnick is a well known and respected Boston attorney.

He is a close political friend of Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin and Mayor John B. Hynes and campaigned for both Tobin and Hynes in their bids for public office.

Prior to his election to the School Committee, Muchnick served as a member of the Boston City Council.

"I became a candidate for Congress in the Herter district because I was persuaded and convinced that as the Democratic candidate I could win election," Muchnick stated in asking support in next Tuesday's primary.

"Now I offer myself as a congressional candidate to the Democratic voters of that district on two grounds.

"The first is that, I believe, I have demonstrated that I have the capacity and the qualifications to make a good Congressman."

"The second is that I can win election if I am nominated. Democratic leaders, hopeful of gaining a congressional seat in this State, are in accord with that opinion," Muchnick continued.

"A gain of even a single Democratic seat in Congress, where too often in the past a coalition of Republicans and Dixiecrats have prevented the passage of progressive legislation, might prove of great importance in the two years immediately ahead," he stated.

"Since the Herter district was first gerrymandered by a Republican Legislature back in 1942, the Democratic party has nominated a series of candidates who were unable to win election in a district that Governor Dever has twice carried."

Now that a new Congressman is to be chosen in this district the Democratic voters have a chance to bolster their party Congress," Muchnick said, "I am confident I can win that seat in November if I am nominated on Tuesday."

Pension Bill Put Through In a Rush

Sen. Lee Says "Holding Bill Back from May to June Was Deliberate"

In a statement issued this week, Senator Richard H. Lee (R-Newton) stated that the "pension bill is a glaring example of what happens when a mass of bills is pushed through in an all-night session" and contends that "Speaker O'Neill contrived to withhold it from action by the House until a night session in prorogation week."

In his statement, Senator Lee wrote: "The Curley Pension Bill is a glaring example of what happens when a mass of bills is pushed through in an all-night session. Of course this bill did not mention Mr. Curley in its text; it was merely a bill to amend the retirement laws."

many bills from school teachers and other public servants to liberalize the pensions which have been cut in half by the Truman inflation. To the average legislator this looked like another such bill.

"Actually the bill was carefully drawn to fit the circumstances of Ex-Mayor Curley and perhaps one or two others. It was sent to the Committee on Pensions where two Republican members, Johnson of Brockton and Lee of Quincy (my brother) dissented on May 7th. Even they did not realize that it applied to Mr. Curley but they saw no need for such legislation.

"Speaker O'Neill contrived to withhold it from action by the House until a night session in prorogation week. He then arranged to push it through with some other pension bills without arousing the opposition. Speaker O'Neill is a candidate for Congress in the district formerly represented by Mr. Curley. Early this year Curley considered running again for Congress and it looks as though there was a deal in which the Speaker agreed to get a handsome pension for Mr. Curley if Curley would not stand in his way in the fight for Congress.

"The bill came into the Senate on the final night of the session. Like other late bills it was not printed in the calendar. Chairman Staves of the Ways and Means Committee, a 'revolving Republican', reported the bill favorably and asked for suspension of rules. A few of us voted 'No' but the majority, anxious to get home, allowed it to pass, assuming that the recommendation of the Committee should be followed.

"This is not the only bad piece of legislation that has gotten through when the normal rules of procedure are suspended, when bills are not listed in the calendar and there is not sufficient time to examine them in detail.

"Of course there was no need for holding this bill back from May until July except to deliberately cause a last minute rush."

Group Protests Closing of Highlands Sta.

The proposed closing of the ticket office at the Newton Highlands station of the Boston and Albion Railroad was opposed by a group of Newton residents, led by Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr. and Assistant City Solicitor George J. Elbaum, at a hearing in Boston before the Department of Public Utilities.

A spokesman for the railroad explained that the railroad only sought to dispense with the ticket agent and not to close the station or change the present schedule. During inclement months, a caretaker would attend to heating the station but it would be closed during the summer months.

Passengers would be able to pay their fares on the trains or purchase commuter tickets at other stations, the spokesman testified. He said that the closing would not cost riders any more money, even though they did not have a commuter ticket when boarding the train. The rider would have to pay a full fare, but would be given a receipt which would enable him to buy a commuter ticket at his destination at a discount to make up the difference between commuter and regular fares.

The railroad took the position that the closing would be economical while not inconveniencing the passengers. The hearing was held before John J. Kelley, chief transportation inspector for the DPU.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE NEWTONS

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

IT'S ALL OVER NOW—In for a last plunge, Newton boys and girls, like others all over the country, say farewell to summer.

"Pack up your bathing suits and camping gear—it's all over now!" With a last, whistful thought of summer vacation, summer togs are put away for another year, and Newton youngsters pick up their books and join the millions of students who trudge toward school and a busy curriculum.

To the novices, the tiny tykes who are part of the 1,500,000 new enrollees this year, a new world unfolds. Toys are exchanged for chalk and clay; scribbles become letters; and playmates become classmates.

Wise parents have not expected the teachers to carry full responsibility of their children's education. "Civilization" begins at home. A little careful attention to discipline, an introduction to the alphabet, practice reading and writing in the home, starts the child out "on the right foot" at school. "Fair play" should be encouraged with playmates at home.

Perhaps this age of babysitters has its advantages. A child that is used to "substitute mothers" will not experience such a great emotional upheaval to the exchange of mother's discipline, to that of the teacher's.

Comic books for children of reading age, have been discussed again and again by worried parents, and so we will not "hash" that subject here. Suffice to say that control in reading matter, as in all other aspects of discipline, is of benefit to our youngsters. Comic books to school books is an adjustment, no doubt. Comic books should not be bed problems in a home where constructive reading matter is available.

Although many may bemoan the caliber of our present television programs, there are a few that are enlightening. Check up on the proper programs for your children.

High School and college groups should be encouraged to take an interest in the news, national and international politics. In a few years, many of them will be called upon to take part in public affairs. Help them to prepare. The radio, television and newspapers, give us an excellent coverage of the news.

Mothers, are you breathing a sigh of relief that Jane and John are back in school? Sorry, but you shouldn't relax completely. There is the P. T. A. that needs your attention. Know what is going on in school. Are your children responding to school work? What is their status in social behavior, marks and health? What is served in the school cafeteria? Don't forget about your children during their school hours. See that they benefit from each moment of learning. It is so much easier for a child to receive a high mark if school interest is carried into the home where someone will say, "well done!" The P. T. A. helps both teachers and parents to better understand the problems and education of youth.

Last week the Newton Graphic published a page of articles and pictures, devoted to the safety of school children, which we hope every family has read. Registrar King, the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Newton Police Chief Purcell, have prepared a campaign of safety.

Let us pray that each and every youngster in the Newtons will enjoy a productive, happy, and safe school year!

The Dauber Shop Is Now Open

Something new has been opened at the Lower Falls. The Dauber Shop opened last Saturday in the lower floor of the factory building on Mica Lane. Mica Lane leads off the middle of the Lower Falls Square. Many Newton residents may not realize that there is such a building behind the stores on the northerly side.

The Dauber Shop—interesting name, descriptive of the materials sold—is owned by Lewis F. Perry's Sons Company, a painting and decorating concern established in Boston in 1860 and now operated by Howard R. Perry, Jr. His son, Howard R. Perry, Jr., is the one primarily concerned with the Dauber Shop as he will manage this new venture.

It is a retail store for the sale of paints, painters' supplies and artists colors. Paints will be mixed to meet any color scheme or decorative effect. The location will also operate as the office for the parent company which does painting and decorating of all kinds, including paper hanging. Remember the location and drop in to see what the Dauber Shop has to offer. The phone is Wellesley 5-5246.

All Newton Music School to Start 42nd Season Monday

Schedules at the All Newton Music School are rapidly filling up for the school's 42nd season which will begin Monday, September 15. The executive director, Mrs. Mabel B. Worth, and her office assistants, have been kept busy since September 2nd, with inquiries from new applicants. These, of course, must wait for placement until all former students are duly registered.

Each fall during the first week of September, registration of former students is held, then during the next week, auditions of new applicants are arranged and vacancies in the various departments are filled as long as they last.

The piano department has grown so rapidly during the last few years that the school now employs eleven teachers and still cannot accommodate all who apply for piano instruction. Beulah F. Bell and Ellen Starkweather are in charge of this large department. An interesting new development last season was the opening of a department for the teaching of double bass under the able instruction of Webster Spinney, an experienced bass player and teacher.

With the addition of double bass, the Music School now has a strong string department, with the orchestras doing outstanding works of the masters with credit to the young players and their able instructors.—Irene W. Forte and Marly L. Scipione.

The Fall Semester of the Music School will start on Monday, September 15th for instrumental lessons. Classes in musicianship and theory of music will not begin until Tuesday, September 30.

The All Newton Music School is a member of the National Guild of Community Music Schools, of the Newton Community Council and of the Newton Community Chest.

Fred G. Fisher, Jr., president of the Newton Republican Club, which is sponsoring this program, has issued the following statement: "The Jamboree will be a major Republican event in the city of Newton before the election, and all Newton voters will have the opportunity to meet personally and talk with the candidates."

The public is invited to attend.

Large Corps Of Volunteers To Participate

Although all signs are pointing to probably the largest corps of women workers volunteering to participate in the history of The Salvation Army's Friendly Appeal in Newton, Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, the Residential Chairman, who lives at 45 Homewood rd., Waban, today urged that other civic-minded ladies join their many friends who have already agreed to help conduct the approaching residential "good neighbor" canvass of every home.

"We are aiming to live up to our slogan of 'more people giving' rather than asking people to give more," Mrs. Huber stated, "and the only way we can hope to do that is by reaching every home. We know only too well how household expenses are mounting day by day, as indeed are many other items which women have to guard so carefully in their every day budgets. Therefore we are aiming to have as complete coverage of homes in Newton as possible. Only in this way can Newton be assured of going 'over the top' for the friendly appeal — the appeal which asks you to give what YOU feel you can afford," Mrs. Huber concluded.

Meanwhile business and residential leaders, encouraged by the enthusiastic response on the part of volunteer workers to date, were likewise enthused by immediate favorable reaction to the campaign slogan — "the appeal with the same quota as last year."

"Every volunteer worker can feel that she is a part of an army of public-spirited citizens—10,000 strong—who will take part in the Greater Boston Friendly Appeal," Mrs. Huber continued. "Let the women of Newton prove that they can do one of the best jobs of the ladies anywhere. If you would like to enlist in this cause of helping those in need of every age and race, color and creed, and your services have not already been requested, please phone me at Dec 2-2489 or Dec 2-2624. You, too, can join the army of volunteers in this crusade against poverty and need—this campaign to help rehabilitate broken bodies, broken hearts and broken souls."

Says Action "Unwarranted Interference" in the Representative Contest

Rawson, stated that he was filing a protest with the Republican State Committee over what he termed "unwarranted interference" in the contest by Wilfred Chagnon, a member of the Republican State Committee.

Sons' Memory Inspiration Of Campaign

Created to Secure Greater Research

The Robbie Page Memorial Fund Named for Newton Centre Victim of Polio

An informal but highly effective campaign to increase the scope of medical research in poliomyelitis has quietly gathered momentum during the past year, inspired by the memory of a silver-haired, five-year-old boy.

It was a year ago today that Robbie Page, 5½, died of bulbar polio at Children's Hospital in Boston. It was a year ago today that the doctors, with tears in their eyes, looked down at this boy who had made such a brave fight in the iron lung and said, "We just don't know enough!"

Two days later, Robbie was laid to rest next to his grandmother in Blossom Hill Cemetery in Concord, N. H. By the time of his funeral, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson Page of 78 Westminister road, Newton Centre, Mass., had conceived the Robbie Page Memorial Fund with the objective of helping the doctors to "know enough" so that other children in the future might be spared the ravages of polio.

The policy of the Fund is to work in close harmony with other organizations in this field, but to concentrate exclusively on medical research with the objective of speeding the day when a cure or preventative for polio is found.

As a result of contributions received during the first year, a $5,000 grant has been made to the University of Michigan for a fellowship in studies in the

Newton Churches to Dedicate Revised Bible September 30

Twenty-six Churches to Join in Special Services at First Church at Centre

A new milestone in the history of Protestantism will be marked September 30 as the churches of Newton will join with those in more than 2000 cities throughout the United States and other countries to celebrate publication of the newly revised version of The Holy Bible.

In Newton, 26 churches will join in special dedicatory services to be held at First Church, Newton Centre. In the local service of dedication there will be readings from The Scripture in the original tongue and an address on The Bible and its history. Specially inscribed copies of the new version will be presented to five local citizens at that time.

The new revision, the fifth authorized for Protestants since Coverdale Bible of 1539, has been declared the most important Bible publishing project since the King James version was presented to the world, 341 years ago.

In the dedicatory services, the Christian community will hail the finished work of 32 scholars, who labored 15 years to revise The Bible in the light of modern scholarship, but still retain the classical style of the King James version.

Changes in the new version are based on material found in newly-discovered documents that correct or clarify parts of the

Disinfectants, Paper Taboo In Garbage

Officials Point Out That It Is A Violation of the Collector's Contract

Newton residents were warned against placing strong disinfectants or garbage wrapped in newspapers in garbage pails by city officials, who pointed out that the collectors may refuse to pick up the garbage.

Director of Public Works William S. Pratt and Street Commissioner Richard A. Murphy declared that the use of disinfectants and the wrapping in newspapers is in violation of the contract with the collector.

They stated that "continual violation" would result in a refusal by the city to collect garbage at the residence where the offense occurs.

The joint statement follows: "It has been brought to our attention by the contractor collecting garbage in the city of Newton, that citizens are using strong disinfectants in their garbage containers. They are also wrapping the garbage in newspapers, which is contrary to the contract, and in some cases depositing rubbish within the garbage containers.

"Any of the above reasons will cause the garbage contractor to refuse to collect the garbage within these containers. This is in accordance with the contract. Continual violation of this ordinance will cause the city to not further collect the garbage from such residence where this occurs."

Parking Meters and Limited Parking Time to Be Considered

Street Traffic Committee of Board of Aldermen to Hear Recommendations

Limiting parking time at off-street parking areas and erecting parking meters at two new sites will be considered tonight (Thursday) by the Street Traffic Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, acting on recommendations of the Police Traffic Division.

The aldermanic committee will discuss the recommendations made by Sgt. William H. Dowling, head of the traffic division, at a meeting in Newton City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Sgt. Dowling suggested that parking meters should be installed along Hall street, Newton, and along Beacon street, Newton Centre, at the Mason School from Langley road to the bus stop.

No recommended time limit was suggested for the off-street parking areas, but Sgt. Dowling asked the committee to study the matter.

Also recommended was the erection of "stop" signs on Harvard street at Cabot street, Newtonville, going south; on Fessenden street at Crafts street, Newtonville; on Gilbert street at Greenough street, West Newton; on Arapahoe road at Greenough

Rent Control Wins 8155 to 6560 Here

Whittier Receives High GOP Vote; Kennedy Has High Democratic Vote

As a result of the close vote cast Tuesday in the Republican contest for Representative for the 4th Middlesex District in which Representative George E. Rawson nosed out Alderman Paul S. Rich by only 194 votes, it was stated Wednesday morning that Rich would file for a recount in this contest. In the same contest, Christian A. Herter, Jr., easily won re-nomination for one of the two positions, receiving a total of 4,871 ballots, followed by Rawson with 3,157 votes and Rich with 2,963 votes.

Greatest local interest in the primaries Tuesday centered in this contest and the closeness of the final tabulation, indicates the intensity of the campaign which was carried on for a place on the G.O.P. slate.

On the matter of rent control, 8,155 voted "Yes" and 6,560 voted "No," with a clear majority of 1,595 favoring a continuation of the rent control law here.

Senator Sumner Whittier was accorded the high Republican complimentary vote with a total of 13,323, while John F. Kennedy, candidate for U. S. Senator, was accorded the high complimentary vote on the Democratic ticket with a total of 1966.

In the G.O.P. contest for Congressman from the 10th District, Laurence Curtis far outdistanced his two opponents here with a vote of 7,946 to 2,615 for Charles Kefauver of Brookline and 1,893 votes for Samuel G. Atkinson, also of Brookline.

In the Republican contest for State Treasurer, Roy G. Papalia of Watertown swamped Fred J. Burrell of Medford by a vote of 10,372 to 2,247, or better than four to one.

Following is a tabulation of the vote cast here Tuesday in both the Republican and Democratic slates:

sure or prevention of poliomyelitis. A young doctor is currently doing a special study on the motor nerve cells, which are the ones invaded by the polio virus, a study which has been described by eminent medical authorities as a promising avenue of research. A grant of $500 to Children's Hospital in Boston has also been authorized which will go into a study to develop a quicker and less expensive diagnostic procedure in polio. Since money alone cannot buy research, the Fellowship plan has been adopted by the Robbie Page Memorial Fund Committee as the soundest contribution to the overall battle against polio. By training a young doctor in this field, the fund not only accomplishes immediate investigation but also encourages a promising young man or woman to enter research. It is thus an investment in future as well as current research.

Mrs. Page is national president of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, with Mrs. Henry W. Morrison of New Britain, Conn., acting as chairman for the sorority. Other contributions have been solicited from friends, business acquaintances, fraternal groups — and from strangers. Serving as treasurer of the fund is Ralph M. Eastman, vice president of the State Street Trust Company of Boston, whose son was stricken with polio in Korea. Heading up the fund raising activities is Robbie's father who is public relations representative of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Support for the fund has come from a wide variety of sources throughout the nation, including Father Flanagan's Boys Home where $15 was raised for the Robbie Fund through a penny collection. Contributions have been received from families stricken by polio, in memory of or in behalf of loved ones.

The sadness attending the death of this blue-eyed little boy has thus been transformed into a positive force for good, with Robbie becoming a symbol of opportunity to those who want to take part in the fight against polio.

The second annual drive for funds began Monday. Contributions from all sources are welcomed and may be sent to Mr. Eastman at the State Street Trust Company who will duly acknowledge them. There are no administrative costs, so that every cent of every dollar contributed will go directly into polio research.

Lincoln C. Cummings of 33 Oak Hill street, Newton Centre, has entered Lehigh University as a member of the freshman class.

Wilfred Chagnon as Republican State Committeeman. At yesterday's Republican State Primaries, Chagnon brought out a slate card which tied his opponent, George Rawson, on the coat-tails of Senator Lodge and other prominent Republican candidates.

"This slate card was handed out to all voters by Chagnon's hired workers at $12 a day each. They were directed by Chagnon and several even work for him in his business.

"Thus the voters of Newton were told and led to believe that these 'select Republicans' were the only good Republicans for whom a vote should be cast.

"This is a deliberate and vile attempt to sway the nomination of a particular candidate. Thus we have the serious situation where Chagnon, a friend and recent appointee as Commissioner of Pharmacy by Gov. Paul A. Dever, who most Republicans abhor, and a Republican State Committee member, controls by his every move the nomination of Republican candidates.

"This unwarranted interference in the Sept. 16 Republican Primary will be publicly laid before the State Committee, failing the immediate resignation of Chagnon."

Children's services for pupils of the Religious Schools of Temple Emanuel and their friends will be conducted under the supervision of Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director of the Temple, on Saturday and Sunday mornings at 10 a.m. in the vestry of the Temple. ## Enlisted Men Should Register Their Names with Red Cross

Mrs. Edith Chase, director of Home Service of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, wishes to again call to the attention of Newton people a Red Cross service which may be of great importance and value to our men and women in the Armed Forces.

A few days prior to induction, each draftee and his family receives a letter from Home Service explaining the many and varied services available to them through their Red Cross, the Field Director in camps, or at the front and the local Chapter at home. Because experience has shown that the draftee does not always read his mail, William E. Halliday, Jr., a member of the Home Service Committee, is now giving a brief explanation of these services at each draftee send-off.

"It is the enlisted man and his family which we are not always able to contact," said Mrs. Chase. "As Selective Service continues, it becomes increasingly difficult to obtain names of enlisted personnel. There is no way of obtaining knowledge of their enlistment but we do wish each one to be aware of the assistance Red Cross stands ready to render, especially in emergencies involving either the service man away or his folks back home."

"If any one knows of any person at present in the armed forces and not as a draftee, Newton Red Cross would greatly appreciate such information," continues Mrs. Chase. "If our files show he or she has not received our service letter, we wish to mail one to him and one to his family. So often a serious emergency arises and we find they have forgotten or were not aware of the assistance available to them by or through their Red Cross. We wish to be of service to all in the Armed Forces, whether draftee or enlisted man."

texts of the King James version. Included among the documents serving as authority for the new portions of the Bible are the priceless Isaiah scroll, found by shepherds in a cave near the Dead Sea, and ancient writings and business letters discovered in Egypt, which have helped in the translation of the New Testament.

That the new version does not in any way change the factual content of The Bible is emphasized by the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean-emeritus of the Yale Divinity School, who was chairman of the group of scholars that took part in the work of revision.

"What we have revising is the English translation—the phrases and sentences—which are used to express the meaning of the Hebrew and Greek in which the Scriptures were written," Dr. Weigle declares.

The revised Bible is being published by Thomas Nelson & Sons of New York, with the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States of America as the copyright owner.

The first printing calls for about 900,000 copies of the complete Bible, and for two companion Old Testament volumes of 50,000 copies each, for use with the revised New Testament. The New Testament has already sold nearly 2,000,000 copies. Three printing presses are working day and night to have the new revision ready for the dedication.

Many Protestant leaders have hailed the revised Bible's publication as one of the significant events of this half-century.

The dedication services in Newton are being sponsored by the Newton Minister's Association. The committee in charge includes Rev. Sydney Adams, president; Rev. Richard Schoolmaster, Rev. Edmund W. Nutting and Dr. M. Russell Boynton, host pastor.

Profits Can Be Too Low

Recent statistical studies show that the profits earned by retailers, which are modest in the best of times, have in many cases declined to an alarming extent and come close to the point of non-existence. This is true of both chains and independents, and of small stores and large. And it has happened during periods when dollar sales were increasing. In other words, many retailers have done more business, but there has been less and less money left in the till after the bills and wages and taxes are paid.

Various causes have been responsible—rising wage and material costs, unjust price regulations and interpretations of regulations, and so on. The net result is that the retailers' ability to do the best possible job of serving the consumer is threatened.

Neither the consumer nor anyone else is benefited when essential business operates at a near profitless level. It is profit which makes for growth and progress. It is profit which keeps the whole complex economic machine, from the biggest factory to the smallest store, operating.

No one defends excessive profits—and in a free, competitive economy that is taken care of automatically. We see that every day at the retail level—price is the major inducement to most consumers and they go where they get the best break. The merchant who tries to work on the all traffic will bear principle soon sees his customers going past his doors. So retail profits are always quite small. But the consumer should realize that when they become too small, damage is done to the interests of us all.

Storm Signals Up for November Election

A public protest stemming from the scandal over legislative pensions exploded with stunning force at polling places across Massachusetts in Tuesday's primary, sweeping many men out of office with others escaping with their political lives by only the narrowest of margins.

As invariably happens under such circumstances, some competent and conscientious public servants lost their seats in the upheaval, and some of the men most responsible for the happenings just before the Legislature prorogued last July survived the political tidal wave or won promotion to higher office.

But heavy as the primary day toll was throughout the State, with thousands upon thousands of voters venting their wrath upon those in office, whoever they might be, the storm signals appear to be flying for an even greater number in the November election.

Some legislators staggered through Tuesday's primary because they had first positions on the ballot, and the opposition to them was divided among a number of candidates.

A sizeable additional turnover may be expected in the Legislature next November when battles are settled in tight districts where Democratic and Republican voters are about equal in numbers, and the independents, who didn't participate in Tuesday's primary, hold the balance of power.

One of the questions the political analysts are asking themselves is what the primary figures foretell for the November election as far as the men seeking State-wide office are concerned.

It's impossible to provide any definite answer, and no one can be sure exactly how much the public wrath will abate in the seven weeks ahead.

But one certain thing is that on Tuesday a protest vote of sizeable proportions was recorded against the top State officials as well as against members of the Legislature and the Governor's Council.

Thousands upon thousands of Democratic voters passed over Governor Dever's name at the top of their ballots without casting complimentary votes for him. Congressman John F. Kennedy, with a much less favorable position than Dever, ran ahead of him in many sections.

A vast number of Democrats voted against Attorney General Francis E. Kelly and Lieutenant Governor Charles F. Jeff Sullivan, and either would have had a bitter fight for survival in a two-man contest.

Whether that same feeling will exist on the first Tuesday in November is something only time will determine, but the position of the Democratic State ticket is far from as secure as it was a month ago.

The public protest, of course, was by no means directed solely against Democrats. Republicans as well felt the full impact of its force.

Aside from the protest vote, the State-wide fights which stand out as most significant was for the Democratic and Republican nominations for State Treasurer.

Governor Dever's organization demonstrated its pulling power in playing a big part in giving Foster Furcolo the Democratic endorsement for Treasurer. The fact that six other candidates were in the field against Furcolo helped to ease the task, but the Springfield man polled an extremely impressive vote, in some areas getting almost as many votes as his six opponents combined.

Republican leaders countered by delivering their party's nomination for Treasurer to Watertown Selectman Roy C. Papalia and in doing so beat back a challenge by former Treasurer Fred J. Burrell of Medford.

This means that each political party will offer a man of Italian descent as its candidate for State Treasurer in the November balloting.

Burrell defeated Papalia for the same nomination two years ago, but after endorsing Papalia and the unofficial Republican State convention in Worcester last June, G.O.P. chieftains were taking no chances of seeing him go down in this primary, and the entire party machine throughout the Commonwealth was moved into action in support of Papalia's candidacy.

A number of highly interesting contests now shape up for the November election.

Former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis of the Back Bay and City Councilor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of Roslindale will battle it out for the seat in Congress held for the past decade by Christian A. Herter.

This district always has elected a Republican Congressman ever since it was created, but Governor Dever carried it in both the 1948 and 1950 elections, and President Truman ran slightly ahead there in '48.

Hailer, whose father was killed in a fall a week ago from a downtown Boston office building, won a dramatic victory, and Curtis coasted home with a display of vote-getting strength.

School Committee Chairman Isadore H. Y. Muchnick who sought the Democratic nomination in that contest was handicapped by the fact that he did not live in the district in which he was running, causing him to lose some votes he might ordinarily have received.

Until full returns for the State are tabulated it will be impossible to determine exactly how much cutting was done by the voters of their party's candidates for the top State offices, but a study of the figures available would indicate it was greater on the Democratic side than in the Republican primary.

One of the big surprises in the West Roxbury-Roslindale community was the apparent defeat of Representative Walter D. Bryan for Democratic renomination to a second term on Beacon Hill.

A recount will be made of the Ward's Democratic House vote, but it appears on the basis of the unofficial returns that Bryan was nosed out by Representative Edmond J. Donlan for the third endorsement by a handful of votes.

The district never has had a harder working or more conscientious public official than Bryan, but both he and Donlan as well as Representative William F. Sullivan were hurt by the public indignation that swelled from the disclosures of the things that happened just before the Legislature prorogued its regular session last July.

It was impossible for the people to determine exactly who was to blame and who wasn't, and to an extent they took out their wrath on almost every legislator standing for renomination, with the innocent suffering as well as the guilty.

Bryan and Donlan both lost some support because they insisted on the home rule principle and refused to vote pay raises for the police without allowing a referendum to Mayor Hynes and the City Council on the question.

City Councilor Michael J. Ward's supporters express bitter disappointment over the failure of their man to make a better run against Register of Deeds Leo J. Sullivan, but that contest demonstrated once again the difficulty of defeating a county office-holder standing for renomination.

Recriminations from that fight may continue for some time with Ward's campaign managers charging that high officials interfered in the contest.

Charles R. Doyle and Joseph M. Loughlin, the two top victors in the Ward 20 Democratic House battle, both made remarkable showings as they outran tested and veteran vote-getters of the stamp of Representatives Donlan, Bryan and Sullivan. They were helped, of course, by the furor over legislative pensions, but they also waged energetic campaigns in their own right.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE NEWTONS

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

Strike up the band! Bring on wild animals, candy cotton and clowns, for our subject this week is heading for the Big Top!

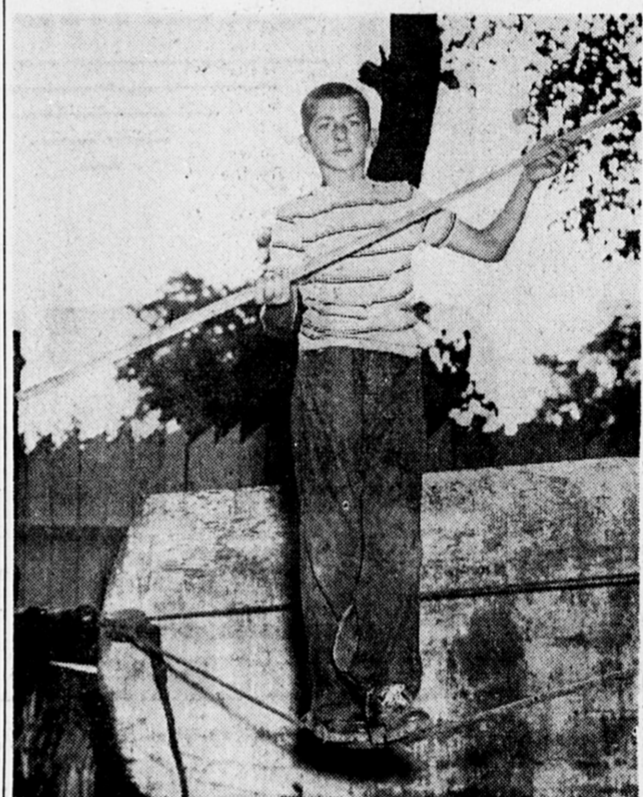

The hustle-bustle excitement of a circus is more than a day's entertainment to Gilbert Salvatore Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Klas Anderson of 505 Waltham street, West Newton. For 13 year old Gilbert, student at Warren Jr. High School, is in training to become a professional clown!

His eyes are a glow as he recalls his "discovery": "I didn't know that clowns did the things I like to do, until my mother took me to see a circus in Boston, when I was seven years old. You see, ever since was five, I practiced cartwheels and tumbling. At the circus, I saw clowns with funny faces, dressed in costumes and decided then that I wanted to be a clown, that that was what I was already practicing to be."

When he returned home, Gilbert tried taking the handles off his bike, while riding, in imitation of the circus clown. After seeing another circus, when he was nine, he put up a tightrope in his back yard. The rope was not very high the first year, but Gilbert keeps putting it higher with every year of practice. The movie, "The Greatest Show on Earth," and television, have been his "instructors," recently.

He hopes to meet a "real" clown — are there any professionals in Newton? "This really isn't much harder than riding a bike," says Gilbert, as he tests his tight-rope. Children of the neighborhood gather around his back fence as Gilbert pushes a pail over to the rope. He has put a large board between 2 trees for his "backdrop" — the professional touch. "Attabo, ilbert," shouts his

Baby Sitters Should Be Given Proper Emergency Instructions

Most everybody enjoys going out to visit sometimes in the evenings. In many homes this means that someone must be employed to take care of the young children left at home.

There are countless cases on record where parents have left helpless small children at home in bed unattended both at night and during the day. Upon their arrival back home they have been confronted with disaster. A fire ruined home and their loved ones dead or severely burned and suffering.

Apparently when they had left their home everything appeared to be in good order, but through some quirk of fate, fire developed. As there was nobody there old enough to investigate the first trace of smoke or odor of burning substance the fire developed unchecked for some period of time. When it was discovered it was too late to save the lives involved. Insurance may rebuild the home but it can never replace the lives of our loved ones.

You may think that in a community such as Newton that a condition like this could not occur. No community is exempt from such occurrences.

Young children should never be left in a house or building alone, especially at night. It may seem hard and expensive at times to locate a suitable companion to stay at the house to take care of the children but the effort is well worth it for safety and peace of mind. The person engaged should be of a responsible age just in case some emergency should arise.

It is suggested that when you do engage some person that you give them certain information before leaving them, such as, the name and correct address of the place and people you're visiting; the name and telephone number of neighbor or friend who might be willing to come over if any trouble developed.

Having someone close-by that can be called is especially necessary if a young person is employed. Instruct them in the proper method of calling the fire department if it is needed (Bigelow 4-0030) and tell them what to do with the children. Write the instructions on a piece of paper and keep it near the telephone. If you have an oil burner, show them the location of the power switch so that they can shut the power off if necessary and inform them what to do in case any trouble develops from this source.

A High Holy Day Message

By Dr. Albert Gordon, Rabbi of Temple Emanuel, Newton Centre, written especially for The Newton Graphic

The Jewish High Holy Days are regarded as the most sacred of all days in the Hebrew calendar. The Jewish New Year, known in Hebrew as Rosh Hashanah, is, according to Hebraic tradition, the birthday of humanity.

It should be noted that the High Holy Day period commemorates no particular event in the history of the Jewish people. Its implications are rather universal in character. Tradition has it that at this season of the year the Almighty has before Him the Book of Life and inscribes therein the names of those who have proved worthy of being given another year of life. That same tradition reminds us that man is expected to repent of all his misdeeds and to turn his course toward God.

Beginning with the Jewish New Year, which is celebrated in prayer in Synagogues and Temples wherever Jews dwell, and continuing through the Day of Atonement—Yom Kippur—which follows ten days later, Jews young and old offer their prayers unto the Almighty seeking atonement through the medium of prayer and a twenty-four hour fast for any wrongs they may have committed against their fellow man and against God.

...As we pray for life for ourselves, so we pray for the gift of life and the blessing of peace for all mankind. ... May the New Year which dawns for the Jew on Saturday, September 20, bring with it God's blessings for all his children. May you be inscribed in the Book of Life for a good year.

If smoke is detected from any source and cannot be located call the fire department at once. Be sure to get all of the people out of the building as fast as possible.

Don't take any unnecessary chances and allow the fire to get a good start.

By properly instructing the person you have engaged in how to handle the various situations that might arise it will relieve you of a lot of anxiety and it may be the means of saving a life or holding a fire to a minimum loss.

Where life is at stake the price of safety is never too great. Do your part now to help keep Newton free from fatalities.

Govone School Of the Dance Opens Sept. 23

"Those move easiest who have learned to dance" may well be the theme around which the Govone School of the Dance, 2001 Beacon street at Cleveland Circle, Brookline, begins its second year under the capable ownership of Miss Annabelle Stuart. As Dance Director, Miss Stuart possesses a complete and unusual dance background, combined with a special and proven talent for working with young people.

In addition to years of study at such noted schools as the Velaz-Shollar School of Ballet and the San Francisco School of Ballet, Miss Stuart has studied also under Martha Graham, Charles Weidman, and Myra Kinch, to name only a few of her gifted mentors. This all-inclusive training, combined with a wealth of experience as performer, choreographer, and lecturer, enables Miss Stuart to give her pupils a new dimension to their dance studies.

This summer, Miss Stuart studied at Jacob's Pillow, Lee, Mass., with Ted Shawn, Myra Craske, and other talented artists. She was also associated with guest performers who appeared during the season at Jacob's Pillow.

Registration at the Govone School will be September 16 through September 22 from 10:30 a.m. to 12:00 Noon and from 2:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. Classes begin Tuesday, September 23, and are held on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays.

107 Pints of Blood Collected At Raytheon Plant Monday

A total of 107 pints of blood was collected during the first visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the Equipment Engineering Division of Raytheon Manufacturing Company, California street, Newton, Mass., from 2 to 7 p.m. Monday. During the registration, 127 employees signed up for donations, making the first visit of the bloodmobile a real success.

"Having the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit on the premises of the engineering plant enabled more employees to donate blood with a minimum of time away from their jobs," James W. Pope, personnel representative for the Raytheon Engineering Division, pointed out.

"In the past, Raytheon employees have been most cooperative in making blood donations at various Red Cross Bloodmobile centers throughout Newton," Mrs. H. J. Levensohn, director, Blood Program, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, said. The engineering group usually participates in the blood program four times a year and during the fiscal year, July 1, 1952, donated 200 pints of blood.

Facilities for giving donations were set up in the engineering cafeteria during the Bloodmobile's visit.

X-ray Program At Lower Falls Next Month

"It is hoped that everyone 18 years and above will take advantage of the chest X-ray program to be held in Newton Lower Falls next month," Dr. Ernest M. Morris, director of Public Health in Newton said this week.

"A chest X-ray, offered without charge to you provides the best method known for making sure that tuberculosis and other chest conditions are not present."

The program will be sponsored by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association in cooperation with the Newton Health Department. The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is paying for the services of a private company in New York to take the X-rays. The Newton Health Department will take charge of the follow-up work involving re-X-raying of persons who are suspected of having a chest condition requiring treatment.

The National Tuberculosis Association reports that tuberculosis is sixth on the list of causes of death as computed by the International List of Causes of Death. The disease kills more people in this country than all other infectious diseases combined.

While the death rate from TB has dropped considerably over the years, much less than progress has been made in cutting down the incidence of illness. It is estimated that 100,000 people become infected with tuberculosis each year, causing physical, emotional, and economic suffering which is increased greatly by delayed diagnosis.

The mobile X-ray unit will be available for the use of Newton Lower Falls residents October 15, 16 and 17, from 2 to 7 p.m., and October 18, 9 to 12 noon, on the grounds of St. Mary's church on Concord street.

League Resumes Its Operations

Modern Living Now Demands Adequate Hot Water Supply

MISS EMMA TIGHE

In discussing the ever-growing popularity of electric water heating, Miss Emma Tighe, Director of the Home Service Division, Boston Edison Company, says, "One of the most important considerations today, in planning a new home or re-equipping an old one, is the selection of a proper water heater."

Miss Tighe goes on to say that with large families there are heavy demands on the hot water supply for dishes and laundry. In some families, there is, inevitably, the husband who likes plenty of time in his shower. Or perhaps Mother is guilty of rinsing dishes under the hot water—a wasteful, costly habit that says Miss Tighe, "our Home Service people are constantly cautioning against." In any of these situations, particularly if they happen to coincide, you run out of hot water unless your water heater is the correct size to fulfill every household need.

"Today's electric dishwashers and automatic washing machines are a boon to the homemaker," Miss Tighe continues. "But to get the best out of these appliances, you've got to have plenty of hot water. That's where the automatic electric water heater stars. And another thing—with morning showers and evening baths replacing the Saturday night bath of yesterday," Miss Tighe adds, "Certainly the average family just can't get along without a lot of hot water."

"When you add to these requirements, the many other needs for an abundance of hot water, you can readily see why so many families today depend on electric hot water," Miss Tighe concludes.

Firemen Give Crutches, Check And Hearing Aid to Red Cross

A group of firemen representing the Public Relations Committee of the Newton Fire Department recently visited the Red Cross Chapter House for the purpose of showing in deeds what they as a group wish to represent in theory.

Richard F. Hay, chairman of this committee of firemen, presented Red Cross five pair of used crutches and a used hearing aid, as well as a check for $25. In making the presentation Mr. Hay explained the purpose behind his committee. "We feel that this city belongs to us as well as to all other citizens and we wish to do as much for it as we can. The fireman is like the doctor—a more or less forgotten man until an emergency 'hits home'. We want Newton citizens and organizations to know that their firemen, through this Public Relations Committee wish to take a more specific stand and part in the life of the community. Since its formation in January, this committee has 'done a good deed' for the Salvation Army and the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. We want Red Cross and other Newton agencies to call on us if we can be of service."

In accepting the crutches, hearing aid and check, Maxwell P. Gaddis, Newton Red Cross Chapter Chairman, said "We are most grateful to you and your entire committee for your donation as well as for your interest in Red Cross and in the community at large. Our Home Service Department very often has requests for the loan of crutches, a wheel chair, or a hospital bed. Your donation of five pair of crutches and a hearing aid will assist in meeting such requests. As you all know, checks are always acceptable and necessary if Red Cross is going to carry on its many and varied services to Newton residents and humanity at large. On behalf of Red Cross and myself personally, please accept our thanks and appreciation and our best wishes for the successful carrying out of your program."

New "Great Books Discussion Group" to Be Formed Monday

From time to time one hears about or reads about "Great Books Discussion Groups," where selections from the classics are read, leaders ask questions, and lively discussions are held by the readers. The method goes back to Socrates, is related to the study of the humanities in colleges, was tried on an under-graduate basis at Columbia University and The University of Chicago, is now being developed on an adult education basis, and was recently assisted by the Ford Foundation.

It may not be generally known, but Newton has had three groups in operation for several years, and there will be an opportunity to join a new group this fall. A "Great Books Group" under the leadership of Alfred Kahn will enter its fifth year this Fall. This group meets at the homes of members and has found this reading-discussion method a satisfying experience. Another group, under the leadership of Mr. Holland and Mr. Strawson, will begin the fourth year course late in September. The third group, under the leadership of Mr. Schneider and Mr. Albert Gayzagian, will start the third year course early in October. These two last named groups meet on Monday nights and the session is usually two hours in length. There are opportunities for those who have previous experience in "Great Books Discussion Groups" to join the third or fourth year groups.

Next Monday evening, September 22, there will be a meeting in the Library Hall at the Newtonville Branch Library of those interested in joining a first year group. Trained leadership is available for such a year start with the "Declaration of Independence" and include selections from Plato, Thucydides, Aristophanes, Aristotle, Plutarch, St. Augustine, St. Thomas Aquinas, Machiavelli, Montaigne, Shakespeare, Locke, Rousseau, the Federalist Papers. These readings can be secured in paper bound editions, costing about 50 cents a session, from the Great Books Foundation. There is no charge for the course. Members should plan and expect to do some substantial reading and to share in the discussion.

The Great Books Foundation is a non-profit educational corporation. Its educational program is built around the reading and group discussion, of a selected list of books dealing with the basic problems of mankind. The headquarters of the Great Books Committee for New England are in the Boston Public Library. Mr. Harold Wooster, Newton Librarian, is a former chairman of this committee.

Those interested in a "Great Books Group" meeting in Newton are requested to leave or telephone their names and address to the Newtonville Branch Library, BI 4-0520 or the Main Library, LA 7-7700.

$250 Separates Two Low School Bidders

Only $250 separates the two lowest bidders for the construction of an elementary school on Beethoven avenue, Waban, Building Commission Arthur Campbell announced last week after opening seven bids for the project at Newton City Hall.

The lowest bid for the eight-classroom school was entered by J. F. Rand and Son of 57 Sudbury street, Boston, who set a figure of $626,158. Closely behind was Leonard Rufo of 43 Fiske road, Wellesley Hills, who bid $626,402.

Under an alternate contract, however, which called for the construction of two additional rooms, Rufo sought only $29,150 extra while Rand asked for $39,939.

The bids will be presented by Commissioner Campbell to the Board of Aldermen for action at its Monday meeting.

Other bids on the school ranged from $645,000 up to $700,000. Plans for the building, besides the eight classrooms, also call for an auditorium, playground, all-purpose room and offices.

The railroads use 60 million tons of coal a year.

Plans for Jamboree Of GOP Completed

Final arrangements have been made to welcome Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for re-election to the United States Senate; Christian A. Herter, Republican candidate for Governor of Massachusetts; and the other Republican candidates for State offices who will be attending the Republican Jamboree Saturday night, October 4, on the grounds adjacent to the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park.

At a meeting at the home of Fred G. Fisher, Jr., president of the Newton Republican Club, the following chairmen were appointed in connection with this event: Mrs. Irene K. Thresher, chairman of Welcoming Committee; Robert A. Townsend, Jamboree Program chairman; Theodore D. Mann, chairman of the Oak Hill Committee for Lodge and Herter, which is acting as host for the evening; and Mrs. Spencer F. Deming and Mrs. John B. Stetson, co-chairman in charge of the Bean supper tickets.

A mammoth bonfire is being planned to ward off any chill of the evening, but in the event of rain, the supper and square dancing will take place in the Memorial School.

The public is invited to the Jamboree which will be free to all, but if supper tickets are desired, they may be purchased by calling Mrs. Deming, or at the Jamboree.

House to House Canvass of the "Friendly Appeal" Starts Here

Rallying almost 1000 strong civic minded citizens from every walk of life this week began the house-to-house and business-to-business "good neighbor" canvass for The Salvation Army's Friendly Annual Appeal in Newton.

The campaign for the beloved organization "with heart to God and hand to man" has been sparked by two enthusiastic organizational meetings of top leaders. The first, with Mayor Theodore Lockwood, the Appeal's honorary chairman, in attendance, was held Monday in the office of vice-chairman William J. Baxter, 430 Walnut street, Newtonville and the second, for residential leaders was a morning coffee held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Edward Godfrey Huber, 45 Homewood road, the general and residential chairman.

Most all of these top leaders had been aroused to a new pitch of enthusiasm by attendance at the big opening rally for the over-all Greater Boston campaign held recently in the Dorothy Quincy suite of the John Hancock Building, Boston.

"We have a proud record to maintain for Newton has always gone 'over the top,'" William J. Baxter, the appeal vice chairman, stated today. "But with the knowledge of all The Salvation Army is doing in Korea and in Boston at the Red Shield Club for servicemen, I feel sure Newton residents will give the friendly appeal the support it so richly deserves. When residents also know that this campaign is truly 'of Newton, by Newton and for Newton' because one dollar of every five contributed here remains in the Newton Service Fund exclusively for local needs, I have no doubt whatsoever that they will respond enthusiastically to the appeal. But we know, too, that it will take a united, long, hard pull to reach our quota and therefore ask the cooperation of every resident. We only ask that you give what YOU feel you can afford, no more. This is one campaign without pressure and without repeat solicitation. Help put Newton 'over the top,'" Baxter concluded.

Hold 'Days of Sharing' From October 6 to 8

Three special "Days of Sharing" for the Combined Jewish Appeal have been designated for Oct. 6 through 8 in Newton, Mrs. Louis Milender of 15 Hobart road, Newton Centre, Women's Division chairman of the Newton CJA, announced today.

On these days, Mrs. Milender said, more than 3000 volunteers will call upon women in 29 Greater Boston cities and towns, including Newton, for contributions to the Combined Jewish Appeals of Greater Boston.

Plans are already under way in Newton to prepare for the "Days of Sharing," Mrs. Milender declared. "We are now recruiting volunteers to serve as solicitors on Oct. 6, 7 and 8. If you wish to enroll as a worker, please call me or contact the Women's Division headquarters, 72 Franklin street, Boston, at Liberty 2-8080."

Among the Newton leaders who are working with Mrs. Milender are Mrs. Leon J. Kowall, co-chairman; Mrs. Daniel Mordecai, special gifts chairman; and Mrs. Barnett Miller, Mrs. Morris Itkin and Mrs. Harold Singer, special gifts vice-chairmen.

Plans for Jamboree Of GOP Completed

Final arrangements have been made to welcome Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for re-election to the United States Senate; Christian A. Herter, Republican candidate for Governor of Massachusetts; and the other Republican candidates for State offices who will be attending the Republican Jamboree Saturday night, October 4, on the grounds adjacent to the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park.

At a meeting at the home of Fred G. Fisher, Jr., president of the Newton Republican Club, the following chairmen were appointed in connection with this event: Mrs. Irene K. Thresher, chairman of Welcoming Committee; Robert A. Townsend, Jamboree Program chairman; Theodore D. Mann, chairman of the Oak Hill Committee for Lodge and Herter, which is acting as host for the evening; and Mrs. Spencer F. Deming and Mrs. John B. Stetson, co-chairman in charge of the Bean supper tickets.

A mammoth bonfire is being planned to ward off any chill of the evening, but in the event of rain, the supper and square dancing will take place in the Memorial School.

The public is invited to the Jamboree which will be free to all, but if supper tickets are desired, they may be purchased by calling Mrs. Deming, or at the Jamboree.

The Temple Shalom Religious School began its third year of progressive Jewish education with the opening session last Saturday, it was announced by Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, spiritual leader of the congregation.

A professional teaching staff, directed by Mrs. Shlomo Marenof, has developed a unique curriculum which includes a well-rounded program of music, drama, art and dancing integrated into the most advanced teaching methods of Jewish education.

The enrollment of the religious school has increased in two years from 300 to 500 pupils.

Following the pedagogic approach of their public school education, the school has been divided into four departments; each department meets separately and its program of activities is specifically planned for the age group involved.

In order to accommodate all the children, the calendar of the school is so arranged that sessions are held daily from Saturday to Tuesday, and includes a separate Hebrew Department staffed by competent and professional Hebrew linguists.

Enrollment in the Religious School and the Hebrew Department is open to members of the temple, and interested residents in Newton may obtain information by calling the Temple Shalom school office, DE 2-9550.

Miss O'Gorman to Reopen School

Katherine D. O'Gorman, who conducts a school of dancing on Tuesday afternoons at the Newton Centre Women's Club, will reopen her school on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Classes are to be held in ballet, toe, tap, acrobatic and baton twirling for grade and pre-school age children.

Miss O'Gorman is a member of the New York Society of Teachers of the Dance, the Dance Masters of America, National Dance Council, and is a former president of the Dance Teachers Club of Boston. At present she is dean of the normal school conducted by the club for the training of young dance teachers.

Miss O'Gorman has a thorough knowledge of teaching and believes that you should not upset the "mental equilibrium" of the child by giving work which only adults should be taught.

Classes are also taught at Miss O'Gorman's studio for University Extension.

She will be at the Clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 30, from 2 to 5 p.m. for registration and information.

Annual Membership Meeting of League of Women Voters Mon.

The annual Membership Meeting of the League of Women Voters of Newton will be held Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus street. All members of the Newton League and those interested in joining are being urged to attend. Featured will be an open Board Meeting, at which time the officers will explain the functions of the League and plans for the coming year.

Fr. Maxwell Opens 1952-53 College Season

The Very Rev. Joseph R. N. Maxwell, S.J., president of Boston College, was celebrant of an outdoor Mass at Newton College of the Sacred Heart at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, at the opening of the 1952-53 session of the college.

Fr. Maxwell also gave an address.

The college, which is beginning its seventh academic year, numbers among its incoming Freshmen, besides residents of the Boston area, students from six different states, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Michigan and Illinois, and from Canada, Mexico, San Salvador and the Philippines.

New on the faculty this year are Theodore Macklin, M.A., who has done work at Harvard, Duke and Boston Universities, and will teach Psychology; Roger M. Antoine, who, after extensive work at the Massachusetts University of Arts and Sciences and Engineering School, studied at Tufts College and Louisiana State University. He will teach Physics and Chemistry. Mother Frances Cunningham, RSCJ, who has a Master's degree in Science from Villanova College and has studied at the Catholic University in Washington, will teach in the Biology Department.

Cost Increases As OAA Cases Drop

Due to Advancing Age of Recipients Says Agent

The number of Old Age Assistance cases in Newton dropped 67 last month from August of 1951, but the total costs rose more than $8000 over the same period, the monthly report of Welfare Agent Edmund J. Poutas revealed last week.

Mr. Poutas pointed out that the increased costs are due to the advancing age of the recipients, since the older persons require more medical treatment.

In August, the Welfare Department paid out $77,562 in connection with 961 cases, while it cost $69,504 in August of 1951 to handle 1028 cases.

In other categories, Aid to Dependent Children cost the city $16,536 with 132 cases in August, and in 1951 there were 169 cases costing $17,091.

Fifty-six General Relief cases cost $2973 last month, while in 1951 there were 98 August cases costing $6297.

Under the Disability Assistance category, which was started late last year, 54 cases were handled at a cost of $5218. During July of this year, 49 cases cost $4431. There are no figures for last year under this category due to its late start.

Liquor License Decision Is Appealed By 9

Granting of License By Local Licensing Board Subject to ABC Ruling

Appeals on the decision of the Newton Licensing Board to grant an all-liquor package goods permit to the same Newton veteran who was awarded it last year, only to have the local decision overruled, have been filed by nine of the 15 unsuccessful applicants.

The Newton Licensing Board granted the new license, made available through the growth of the city as revealed by the 1950 census, to Kenneth J. Merrill of Newton Lower Falls for a store at 1 Jackson street, Newton Centre.

The granting of the license is subject to approval by the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission, which will conduct hearings on the appeals of the applicants who were turned down. The ABC is expected to set dates for the hearings after it receives a report from the Newton board giving the reasons for the local decision.

Those filing appeals were Nicholas T. Voutouritsa, 626 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre; Star Market, Walnut street, Newtonville; Frank Luizza, 247 Washington street, Newton; George F. Hennrikus, Frederick B. Percy, and Donald W. Logan, all for 880 Walnut street, Newton Highlands; Martin J. Lally, 69 Walnut street, West Newton; William J. Smith, 54 Lexington street, West Newton, and Francis Morris, 245 Washington street, Newton.

To Hold "Art for World Friendship" Exhibit Oct. 19-25

An "Art for World Friendship" exhibit in the Newton libraries, with pictures drawn by children of foreign countries, will be one of the features of Newton United Nations Week from October 19 through 25.

The pictures have all been made by children between 6 and 14 years old, who were asked as part of an international movement to draw pictures of themselves in their surroundings and to exchange them with American children.

This is a return engagement for this unique showing of pictures from all over the world, since they were exhibited at the Boston Museum in the spring.

The "Art for World Friendship" exhibit is sponsored by the Newton Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, with the assistance of several local groups.

The Newton groups and their representatives aiding in the exhibit are: American Red Cross, Mrs. P. Edward Eden; American Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Riley J. Hampton; Auburndale Woman's Club, Mrs. Albert E. Everett; Chamber of Commerce, Rupert C. Thompson; Review Club of Auburndale, Mrs. John Senigo; Community Service Club of West Newton, Mrs. Vernon E. ## Newtonville

Cpl. Francis James Rice, from Ft. Benning, Ga., flew to Seattle, Washington, after spending 10 days with his grandmother, Mrs. G. F. Good at his home, 173 Austin street, Newtonville.

There were more than 80 in the new class who came to the 40-acre campus on the summit of the hill overlooking Newton Centre.

The new students came from 23 states, Canada and five foreign lands. Among these was Yoichi Nagasaka of Ibaraki, Japan, a former soldier in the Japanese army who was held prisoner by the Russians in Manchuria. He will study for the ministry and return to his people as a Christian missionary.

The Rev. Dr. Vaughan Dabney, school dean, conducted a communion service and led the opening chapel service Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A highlight of the school opening was the return Tuesday of the seminary president, the Rev. Herbert Gezork, who was the official representative of the American Baptist Convention of 6000 churches at the Third World Conference on Faith and Order at Lund, Sweden.

The Rev. Dr. Paul S. Minear, B.D., M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., also of the faculty, was one of five delegates representing United States Congregationalists at the same conference, who returned with Dr. Gezork.

The annual fall convocation address was delivered yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) by the Rev. Dr. Roger Hazelton in Noyes Hall on the campus. The subject was "France, 1952—A Theological Travelogue."

Dr. Hazelton has just returned from his sabbatical year in France where he studied at the University of Paris.

Changes in the faculty include the return of the Rev. Dr. Charles Whitney Gilkey, who returned as a special lecturer on homiletics after serving as interim minister of the Central Congregational Church, Honolulu; the Rev. Dr. John H. Scammon, who leaves for his sabbatical year to study and teach in Lebanon and Palestine; and Robert Sillen, a layman, who will be interim librarian during Dr. Scammon's absence.

Other foreign students, in addition to the Japanese, are Peter Christian Diemel of Berlin, and Hans-Harold Mallau of Kiel, both of Germany; Arthur Coulthard of Durban, South Africa; and Tjaard G. Hommes of Hilversum, Holland.

During the past summer, more than 50 students and ministers were enrolled in the Clinical Training summer school sponsored by the City Missionary Society and the school, to train clergy in the pastoral caring of hospitalized.

Newton Board Upheld in Tax Decision

In a court test of a valuation of a Waban home, similar to the assessed valuations of houses being protested by the Newton Home Owner's Association, the Newton Board of Assessors was upheld by the State Appellate Tax Board, according to word received Monday by the local board.

The Appellate Board ruled in favor of the city after Evelyn Glasberg of 128 Gordon road, Waban, sought a reduction in the $30,700 assessment on her nine-room ranch house.

The appeal was heard last June by Daniel W. Lincoln, a member of the Appellate Board. Assessor Sydney B. Holden, who appeared for the city, testified that similar homes in Waban sold for $38,000 and $40,000. Other real estate experts, however, told Mr. Lincoln that they thought the $30,700 assessment was too high. The Glasberg home is about two years old and consists of nine rooms and three baths. It was assessed at $27,500 and the 12,835 foot lot was assessed at $3,200.

The Newton Home Owner's Association contends that assessments on new homes are excessive and has voted to make a "test case" of one of the assessments by an appeal to the Appellate Board.

No New Polio Cases Reported in City

No new cases of infantile paralysis occurred in Newton during the week ending Sept. 5, leaving a total for the season at eight, according to the Newton Health Department's "Resume of the Prevalence of Poliomyelitis." The report pointed out that there were 40 cases in Massachusetts during the week ending Sept. 5, while there were 57 the week before and 53 for the week ending Aug. 22.

"The marked drop in cases reported," the Department stated, "may indicate that the peak for the season has passed. The disease will probably remain at about this level for a week or two before a further decline can be expected. New exposures because of movements of population by return from vacations may produce another slight rise, however."

List Night Sessions to Register

Eleven to Be Held Throughout City

Indications Point to A Total Registration of Over 50,000 Voters

Eleven night sessions in various sections of the city remain for persons not on the voting lists to register their names with the Newton Registrars of Voters in time for the November elections.

On the first day of the current registration period, which began Wednesday of last week, a total of 88 voters were signed up at the office of City Clerk Frank M. Grant. This seems to point towards a record total of voters above the 50,000 mark.

There were 44,433 names on the voting list at the reopening of registration, 181 more than the previous high set before the 1948 elections. During the preliminary registration period this year, 3399 voters were signed up, and a similar number is expected to register before the October 3 closing of the lists.

Daily registration sessions will be held at Newton City Hall from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Saturdays.

Evening sessions from 7:30 to 9:00 are scheduled for:

Retires Oct. 1 As Chairman Of Red Cross

Maxwell P. Gaddis who has served Newton with distinction.

Maxwell P. Gaddis, Ends Four Years of Service To Newton Chapter

October 1, Maxwell P. Gaddis will bring to a close four years of service as the volunteer chairman of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. The deep sincerity with which he discharged the duties of his office was a reflection of his own loyalty to the finest precepts of the Red Cross credo of "neighbor helping neighbor."

Before assuming the chairmanship, Mr. Gaddis had been active in several phases of Red Cross activity, most notably fund-raising in West Newton. In 1946, when he retired from active business, he became treasurer of the local chapter. He established monthly reports and instituted the bookkeeping system which is still being followed. Since Red Cross funds are a public trust, he made his books available for inspection at all times. The complete working knowledge he obtained of each Red Cross Service during his two years as treasurer was an invaluable asset when he became chairman.

Halloween Plans Get A Fast Start

More Than 12,000 Likely to Attend

Meeting Makes Material Progress in Outlining The Program Essentials

The first meeting of the Committee shaping up plans for this year's Halloween celebration for more than 12,000 school children of all ages, was held at the Newton Centre Playground House, Tyler street, Newton Centre, last Thursday evening; and before the session ended material progress had been made in setting the general programing essentials.

This will be the 12th annual city-wide Halloween; and judging from the enthusiasm of the large number of committee members present, there is every reason to believe the 1952 event will overshadow those of previous years. The importance of Newton's civic Halloween cannot be gainsaid. The Recreation Department, which has annually sponsored the celebrations, the City Government, the School Department, and many prominent people in every village, indicate by their all-out co-operation that the results achieved by the parties held for the past 12 years are ample reward for the tremendous amount of collective and individual effort they entail. Perhaps the general thinking about the parties can best be summed up in the statement made at the Committee meeting by William O'Connell, president of the Carr School P.T.A.. Mr. O'Connell said: "We, of the Carr, consider the Halloween party the most important function of the year, because it is really the only general function of the entire year that brings parents, teachers and pupils together under the same roof. We think it so important that we have decided not to schedule any other function until after the Halloween party so that we may give our undivided attention to a successful and co-operative party."

Among others who spoke at the meeting were Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, who has been one of the most ardent advocates of the parties ever since their inception and was, in fact, one of the handful of farsighted men and women who recognized their long-range value. Mr. Lockwood pointed out that the parties demonstrated a fine spirit of team play; that since numerous new people yearly take an active part in them, the entire project makes for better community feeling, permitting many people to get acquainted who might otherwise not have met, a fact which is by itself of undoubted value.

Haskell Freedman, member of the School Board announced that the "schools are 100 per cent behind the Halloween parties"; and Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, which organization has played a major part in the affair each year by assuming the most and detail work necessary for the soliciting of money contributions from the general public, said that the parties, in themselves, are not only worthwhile from the standpoint of their wholesome effect on the children, but the business houses of the city enthusiastically view them as a fine type of community project.

Gives Rich a Net Gain of 11 Votes

Recount in All Precincts Shows Accuracy of the Original Tabulation

In the recount of ballots in the contest for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Fourth Middlesex District held at the City Clerk's office Tuesday, little or no change from the original count of ballots resulted.

In the recount, Alderman Paul S. Rich, who sought the recount, gained 11 votes; Representative George Rawson lost four votes; and Christian A. Herter, Jr., gained four votes. The net gain for Alderman Rich was, therefore, 11 votes over Representative Rawson, which left Rich 189 votes short of winning one of the two Republican nominations for the office.

In the original count, Rawson was credited with 3,157 votes to 2,963 for Rich and 4,811 for Herter. The final recount figures gave Rawson 3,153, Rich 2,974 and Herter 4,815.

In the recount, Rich gained five votes in Ward 1, precinct 2; three votes in Ward 2, precinct 2; nine votes in Ward 3, precinct 2; and one vote in Ward 3, precinct 4, while losing three votes in Ward 2, precinct 1; one vote in Ward 2, precinct 3; and three votes in Ward 3, precinct 1.

The original and recount figures in Ward 1, precinct 1, was the same as the original count for all three candidates, while in Ward 7, precincts 1, 2 and 3, the total vote for Rich remained the same but showed a gain of five votes for Herter and nine votes for Rawson.

Following is a tabulation of the original count of votes together with a tabulation of the recount votes:

Waban Residents Make Strong Plea for Playground Facilities

Presenting a petition containing over thirteen hundred names and represented at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night by over 400 residents, a strong argument was presented for the taking of land on Montclair road, Waban, for playground purposes.

The petition was presented by the Angier School Parent-Teacher Association and the Waban Improvement Society. A 11 was signed by 1350 residents of the area. It was accompanied by approving letters from President Cyrus Y. Ferris of the Waban Baseball Associates, Edward C. Uehlein, chairman of Cub Packs 9 and 10; Mrs. Thomas S. Derr, chairman of the Waban Committee of Girl Scouts; Warren G. Reed, of the Executive Committee of the Waban Improvement Society, and Chairman Bromley Dimeritt of Troop 10, Boy Scouts.

The plan of this petitioner were presented at the hearing by H. Eugene Jones, 128 Dorset road, chairman of the Playground Committee of the Angier P.T.A.; William H. Prentice, 677 Chestnut street, president of the Angier Parent-Teacher Association; H. Donald Norstrand, 9 Gammons road, president of the Waban Improvement Society; and Sidney

A. Schneider of 14 Longfellow road, Waban, presented the endorsement of the Longfellow group.

President Wendell R. Bauckman of the Board of Aldermen said that the turnout of so many Waban residents was a "very impressive demonstration." Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson asserted the Recreation Commission has studied the situation and has recognized the need of additional playground land in the area.

The petition which was presented stated:

"We, the undersigned residents of Waban, join the Angier School Parent-Teachers Association in requesting that the city purchase immediately, for a fair price, the land west of the Boston garden plot, now owned by the Montclair Realty Trust, and establish thereon a playground for the children of our community.

"We urge that this be done for the following reasons:

"The Angier School playground is now the only centrally-located playground for children of all ages. It is inadequate in size, and the younger children cannot compete with the older

Break Ground For $300,000 Building Here

W. J. Connell Co. of Boston to Occupy

John B. Rubenstein, Chairman of the New Business Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, this week announced release of a statement by W. J. Connell, Jr., Vice-President of W. J. Connell Company, 121 Brookline ave., Boston, made at groundbreaking ceremonies for a new $300,000 office and warehouse building on Needham street in the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Newton Industrial Center.

Said Mr. Connell at the ceremonies, "Continued growth of our own organization and the recent acquisition of the William H. Flaherty Company has made plant expansion essential. The purchase of the William H. Flaherty Company has added to our own line the sales and service of Briggs & Stratton engines and Auto-Lite products. Our company, since its founding in 1903 by William Connell, Sr., has continuously served the automotive industry in New England. Indeed, it is the oldest distributorship of automotive electrical parts in continuous operation by the same management in the country."

Waban Soldier in Germany Has Long Talks with Family Here

He's Using A Gimmick and It's Working Swell As His Parents and Friends Will Attest

A Newton soldier, stationed in Germany, has solved the problem of what to do with his leisure time. He carries on long conversations with his family back home in the United States.

The soldier is not a millionaire, who can laugh off the cost of transatlantic telephone calls. But he's using a gimmick. It's working well.

Philip K. Brown Jr., airman second class, 85th Aircraft Equipment Repair Squadron, Erding Airforce Base, Munich, Germany, fights off loneliness by listening to the voices of his mother, father, grandmother, sister, little nephew and friends. And he holds up his end by talking to them from the U. S. occupied zone.

It's all done by dictation machines.

Airman Brown, who hails from Waban, is the son of Philip K. Brown, president of Promotions, Inc., the Hart Agency, Boston. Brown, senior, read about a soundscreeber recorder, a dictation machine that makes voice records on thin plastic discs, suitable for mailing. He bought two soundscreebers and sent one to his son. They began to correspond by live-voice records.

Then relatives and neighbors got into the act. Transcriptions of voices of all the Waban folks, with gossip from the home front, went winging to Germany. Until he received his own machine, Airman Brown played them back on a standard long-playing phonograph in the base lounge.

Before you retire Saturday night, be sure to set your watches or clocks back one hour, as Daylight Saving Time officially comes to an end this Sunday.

You may not be particularly pleased that people, time and events will go back to standard time Sunday, but it has its compensation, for a day at least you'll gain back that hour which you lost last Spring when Daylight Saving Time went into effect. ## Newton's 1951 Annual Report Cited in "The American City"

Newton's 1951 annual report, titled "Your City Opens Its Books," is cited in this month's issue of "The American City," a municipal magazine, for "its attractive two-tone use of color, illustrations, diversity, format and the injection of vitality."

The report is in the process of being distributed to more than 22,000 Newton homes by the Women's Administrative Services Division of the Civil Defense Department. The pamphlet contains 52 pages and measures six by nine inches.

The front cover depicts Newton City Hall with its Japanese cherry tree in full bloom. Names of members of the various city departments and the telephone numbers of those who can supply information on municipal services are arranged on the back cover.

The publication was compiled under the direction of the firm of Nason-Walker, public relations consultants, and Harold T. Pillsbury, director of the Newton Municipal Research Library.

Chairman of the east side of Newton for the distribution of the reports is Mrs. George H. Larsen, with Mrs. Marsena Butts as assistant chairman. Mrs. Arthur F. Williams is chairman of the west side, and Mrs. William Helms is assistant chairman.

youngsters for its use.

"There is a critical need for additional playground space due to the rapid growth of our population and the virtual disappearance of vacant lots. Waban's total playground space of less than nine acres is inadequate by current standards.

"This plot of land is the only unimproved land remaining near the center of our community which is available. If the opportunity to obtain it is lost, our children will be deprived of adequate playground space for many years to come.

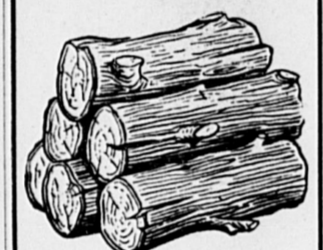

"A children's playground, well fenced, grassed and surrounded by planting, would be an attractive addition to our growing community.

"The nearness of this land to Angier School would enable the school to make great use of it. We urge prompt action as the imminent sale of this land, for speculative housing, threatens us with the loss of this ideal playground site."

Second Fatal Accident Is Recorded Here

Newton registered its second automobile fatality of the year early Sunday when a car, apparently out of control, smashed into a tree at Waltham and Crafts street, Newtonville, killing a passenger and seriously injuring the driver.

Police and firemen worked for more than half an hour before they were able to remove the two victims from the wreckage of the new car, which was demolished.

At the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, doctors pronounced Mrs. Rose Nickerson, 39, of 169 School street, Waltham, dead on arrival. She had a broken neck and a fractured skull.

Donald L. Monto, 22, of 67 Chestnut street, Waltham, driver of the car, was held at the hospital for treatment of head and internal injuries.

Mrs. Nickerson, the mother of three children, was the proprietor of a restaurant at Main and Church streets, Waltham. She formerly operated a pizza store in Waltham.

Garbage Men in Strike Threat

A strike was threatened last week by Newton garbage collectors when about 25 of the workers sought complaints against the former contractor, charging that he had failed to pay them a total of $1600 in back wages.

The men, who are now employed by the new holder of the contract, appeared at the office of the clerk of court to file complaints against Leonard Pierce, an official of the company which was dismissed by the city for failure to live up to its contract.

The workers claimed that the company, the A. J. Pierce Company of Hyde Park, owed them sums ranging from $40 to $60 each. Hugh S. Boyd, acting assistant clerk, announced he would delay issuing the complaints for a week in order to give the company time to raise the money.

A spokesman for the workers declared that the city has a $1500 payment due the Pierce Company, which should be used for the payment of the men's wages. He said that although the men are now working for another contractor, a strike may follow if the city fails to pay the men.

The workers were represented at the hearing before Mr. Boyd by John B. Regan of the Department of Labor, who urged issuance of the complaints under the "Non-payment of Wages" statute.

Gaddis—

came chairman in 1948.

The work of Home Service was of special interest to him. He concerned himself with the individual financial and business problems of many a serviceman's family. He has taken pride in the blood program and nothing has given him greater satisfaction than to hear an appeal for blood answered with the words: "It will be there in time, as much as will be needed."

When a fund worker encountered criticism of the Red Cross, Mr. Gaddis took the trouble to trace down the complaint. "If the Red Cross is wrong," he would say simply, "I want to know. If you have been misinformed I want to set you right." He believes if people realized all that the Red Cross does, no fund drive would ever be necessary. The money would just roll in.

Mr. Gaddis has represented Newton with distinction in the National Red Cross. As National Chairman of Convention Organization in 1949, he secured 20 volunteers from the four areas of the United States for various national positions. These nominees were elected at the National Convention in Detroit, and it was Mr. Gaddis' task to see that the nominees selected would ensure representation for every local chapter in the country. In the Greater Boston Red Cross Alliance he was a member of the Steering Committee and Acting Chairman in 1950-51.

Mr. Gaddis undertook his volunteer jobs not as an obligation, but as an opportunity to do the thing he likes best — to help others. Staff members and volunteers alike always responded to his unfailing courtesy and ready smile. He exemplified in the Newton Chapter the high ideals of service which in less than a century have made the Red Cross the symbol of service to humanity the world over.

WESTERN TRIP will be enjoyed by this group of Newton High School students on the dual-type School and School Exchange next month.

SOUTHERN TRIP will be enjoyed by this group of Newton High School students on the dual-type School and School Exchange next February.

Dual-Type School and School Exchanges Are Arranged for Western and Southern Trips

For the 1952-53 School and School Exchange Newton High School has made arrangements for a dual-type exchange. One section, the Westerners, will have an exchange visit in October with Idaho Falls, Idaho, High School. Ranching, sheep herding, and Yellowstone National Park are a few of the interests that will engage this group. Dates for the return visit have not yet been decided.

The other section, the Southerners, will go to Florida in late February, guests of the Manatee County High School, in Bradenton. Economic problems will be stressed in the study plans of this group, but the February trip will undoubtedly give time for a little sun-bathing and swimming, and sport for any anglers in the group. Bradenton students plan to come to Newton when they can experience the rigors of a New England winter.

"Last year's exchange with Glebe Collegiate Institute, Ottawa, like all the exchanges of preceding years," says Floyd Rinker, Director, "was outstanding. We believe, however, that the program for this year is equally fine and that it promises great success. There will be hard work and good times."

As in former years, the American Red Cross, Newton Chapter, is cooperating in the School and School Exchange. For Newton High and Newton Chapter, this is the fifth year of this activity and the seventh and eighth exchange trips.

Four hundred and twenty-six pupils from the present senior and junior classes received invitations to hear about the exchange and to make applications, if interested. A pupil might specify the Westerners or the Southerners in making his application but he was not required to do so. Fifteen boys and fifteen girls were elected for each of the two groups.

Faculty leaders of the Western Group are Miss Katherine Curtis, Guidance Counselor, and Mr. Harry L. Walen, Acting Assistant Principal. Newton members are: Amann, Rudolf; Beckwith, Jonathan; Berry, Wayne R.; Brogna, Victor; Calvert, Jack; Der Hohnannian, Knicker; Foley, Richard; French, David; Geddes, Stan; Hunt, Bruce; Kennedy, Michael; Manning, Lawrence; Thompson, Richard; Tracy, Norman, Jr.; Williamson, Richard. Louise; Ranney, Helen E.; Stearns, Beverly.

Katherine Curtin and Harry L. Walen, Faculty.

For the Southern Group the faculty leaders are Miss Mary I. Lanigan, teacher of English and advisor of Junior Red Cross, and Mr. Charles L. Peltier, Head of the Social Studies Department. Newton members are:

Adolph, Robert; Barber, Bruce; Cedergren, Robert; Ferguson, Roy; Hobbs, John; Kuebler, Chris; Lane, Robert; Lewis, David; Lipman, Richard; Minear, Larry; Nutter, David; Orr, David; Parker, John; Saunders, Philip, Jr.; Walton, Robert.

Building—

"In 1934, W. J. Connell & Company purchased the E. B. Atmus Company," Mr. Connell continued, "and through this purchase acquired the distributorship of American Bosch products. In 1946, our present building at 121 Brookline ave., was enlarged to double its floor space. In 1947, came the purchase of the Jackson Electric Company and the acquisition of the distributorship of the Leeco Neville products. This latter company supplies electrical equipment for trucks, busses, construction equipment and railroads and makes starters, generators and electrical devices used exclusively on heavy equipment."

W. J. Connell, Jr., who joined the company in 1931, is Vice-President of the Boston organization, President of the W. J. Connell Company of Hartford (which serves Western Massachusetts and Connecticut) and President of the William H. Flaherty Company.

The Connell organization now serves 800 franchised wholesalers in all six New England states. Their products are used by the aircraft industry, the automotive industry, in diesel engines and by railroads.

Present at the groundbreaking ceremonies held this week at the new plant site on Industrial Place in the Newton Industrial Center were the Honorable Theodore R. Lockwood, Mayor of the City of Newton, Ruppert Thompson, secretary of the Newton

Chamber of Commerce, W. J. Connell, Sr. and W. J. Connell, Jr., John Rubenstein, Chairman of the New Business Committee of the local chamber and Gerald W. Blakeley, Jr. of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, Inc.

The new building, located on a 60,000 square foot lot will be of modern steel and brick construction and will cover 36,000 square feet. It will house both offices and warehouse facilities. Purchase arrangements were made through Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, Inc., Industrial Developers, of Boston. This latter firm has been responsible for the development of the Newton Industrial Center on Needham street.

Clark & Smith, of Quincy, are the architects and contractors for the new building. Construction is expected to proceed rapidly and occupancy is anticipated during February of 1953.

Arrested for Plot to Extort $5000 from Newton Contractor

A plot to extort $5000 from a Newton Centre contractor on the threat of injury to his wife and child was broken up Sunday night in Boston, when police seized a 32-year-old Allston carpenter at the North Station.

The Allston man was arrested by plainclothesmen after he took a public locker key from a secret hiding place and prepared to open a locker in which a package of imitation money had been placed.

The victim of the plot, Edward Allston.

Police at the North End station said that Moore admitted the extortion attempt. They reported he claimed he was driven to it by heavy debts owed to loan sharks. Moore said he incurred the debts paying for medical treatment to his child, a victim of cerebral palsy, who is in a hospital for the chronically ill.

The Allens first received a threatening phone call on Wednesday of last week, when Mr. Allen, an executive of the S. and A. Allen Construction Company, was in New York on business. The caller, Mrs. Allen said, demanded $5000 and threatened her

On his return, Mr. Allen was informed of the call, but he dismissed it as a prank. But on Friday he received a "second call" from the unknown person.

The caller instructed him to put $5000 in small bills in locker number 58 at the south end of the North Station, in a group of lockers near the Hotel Manager. The key was to be left behind the coin slot of the telephone in the men's washroom at the head of the stairs directly above the locker.

He was to do this, the caller said, or his own life as well as those of his wife and 21-month-old child would be endangered.

Following instructions of police, Mr. Allen followed the directions outlined by the caller. Police gave him a package of paper prepared to look like a bunch of small bills. While he placed the money in the locker late Saturday, Newton police threw a guard around the Allen house at the direction of Deputy Chief Patrick King, who headed the investigation.

The mysterious caller telephoned Mr. Allen at 9:45 p.m. Sunday, asking if he had done as instructed. After he told the caller that the money was in the locker, Mr. Allen notified police, who already had been posted in the station watching the washroom and the locker.

Police said that Moore arrived about 50 minutes after the telephone call was made, took the key and started toward the locker. He was immediately arrested and taken to the North End station where he readily admitted the extortion attempt, according to police.

Mr. Allen told police that Moore had worked for his company for two months and was discharged about a month ago. During his period of work, he did carpentering at the Allen home. He was fired by a supervisor and not by Mr. Allen.

Moore was held at the station to face a charge of attempted extortion.

What's All the Shouting About?

The recent furore over the announcement that Senator Nixon, vice-presidential nominee of the Republican Party has been the recipient of a fund to enable him to devote his time better to his Senatorial duties, can be summed up very briefly. These charges are pure politics and are part of a smear campaign.

In saying this we do not condone the act, yet from every account, the answers of the Senator appear to be straightforward and stated without reservation.

But why all the excitement? Are the Democrats so simon pure that they can afford to make an issue out of this? If they think that the American public is so naive as to believe all the charges now being hurled at Senator Nixon, they indeed must take the intelligence of the American people to be extremely retarded.

These charges, serious though they may be, are not new. The American people are not so gullible, as many politicians label them, as to believe that Senator Nixon is the only office-holder whose method of existence can stand investigation.

The general public knows that in many instances, State as well as national candidates, spend four, five and many times more money to be elected than the job which they seek pays. Why? That's a question which the American people would like answered. Are all candidates so endowed with the world's goods that they can dip into their own pockets to secure a public office? And if they can't, how do they justify their expenditures with the small revenue which accrues to them by virtue of their election to that particular office?

That's the answer the public would like to have cleared up.

If there is to be an investigation of Senator Nixon and his funds, all well and good, but at the same time the public would like the same type of investigation made of every office-holder, state as well as national. Then perhaps, these investigations will really get some place. Or would they?

GOP Has Strong State Ticket This Year . . . Stevenson Helped to Unite Republicans . . .

The preliminary political sparring will be ended and the big battle for the autumn election joined when the rival parties hold their State conventions on Saturday, the Republicans in Springfield, the Democrats in Boston.

It will mark the start of the intensive five-weeks campaign to the November 4 election, and the battle cries of the opposing candidates will resound across the breadth of the state.

Present indications are that the G.O.P. conclave in Springfield will be a businesslike assembly that will know neither the over-confidence of 1948 nor the lack of confidence of 1950.

Both camps appear to recognize that they have a fight on their hands and that this is one campaign in which the results of major contests may remain in doubt until the votes are counted on election night or during the weary hours of the following morning.

This year the G.O.P. has about as strong a State ticket as could be assembled from the material available. It is a slate that has more geographical balance and a greater recognition of the various racial groups than any in years.

Four years ago, Republican over-confidence, stemming largely from the attitude of Governor Dewey, was so great that the feeling of the G.O.P. strategists was that all they had to do was to avoid tipping over the applecart and count the votes when they piled up on election night.

Two years ago, the Republican party in Massachusetts was drained by a hard and costly primary fight for the gubernatorial nomination, and it had neither the finances nor the energy to make an all-out autumn battle, with the result that the bottom all but fell out of the late Arthur W. Coolidge's campaign when no money was available to hold the customary Sunday-night-before-election rally.

There now appears to be a reasonable balance between the over-confidence of four years ago and the under-confidence of two years ago. The decks have been cleared and the contestants stripped for an all-out battle.

The only cloud in the Republican sky is the status of Vice Presidential Nominee Nixon and how much the disclosures concerning his private expense accounts may hurt G.O.P. prospects generally. Until that unexpected development it appeared that the Republican campaign, both in Massachusetts and across the country, had been making marked progress.

There is no question but that the contest between Governor Dever and Congressman Herter for the Governorship has tightened tremendously in the past month and that Herter has succeeded in closing at least partly the gap that appeared to exist between him and Dever a month or two ago.

After the Republican national convention, the big problem confronting the G.O.P. politicians was the defection within their party, the possibility that Senator Taft's followers might sit on their hands in the autumn campaign and take a walk or go fishing on election day.

Governor Stevenson seems to have solved that problem for them, presumably without intending and has ministered to the wounds within the G.O.P. and to a great extent has healed them so that the Republican party today is far more closely united than most observers had anticipated it would be.

The political seers assumed that Stevenson would try to capitalize on the disappointment of the Taft followers, that he would deftly pour salt into their wounds and seek to drive them away from the Eisenhower banner. Instead, he has done just the opposite.

To the amazement of most political experts he suddenly pitched his campaign against both Eisenhower and Taft. He has made Taft almost as big a man in the Republican picture as Ike.

He told his listeners one day that in the event of a Republican victory in November a visitor to the White House next year would be forced to ask which President is in today, the idea being that no one would be certain whether Ike or Taft was running the country.

On another occasion the Democratic standard-bearer said the setup would be Ike in the White House, Taft in the Blair House and Dewey in the dog house.

And when he came here to Massachusetts he declared that he had seen a picture of Taft and Eisenhower and that not since the cat swallowed the canary had he observed such a contented smile as Taft's.

Governor Stevenson has been singing sweet political music to the ears of the Taft partisans, convincing them that their favorite is the big man in the Republican picture, that he isn't being snubbed or brushed aside or given a raw deal.

Had Eisenhower tried to get across the same idea, the Taft backers probably would have smiled in disbelief, and if Taft himself had appealed to them they might well have assumed that he was just being a true political soldier and was only doing what he had to do.

But Stevenson indirectly has picked a fight with them, and men like Basil Brewer, the New Bedford publisher, of whom there is no more all-out Taft adherent, have little alternative but to rally behind Eisenhower.

Nobody ever expected that the Republican party would be one harmonious political family at this stage of the campaign, but it comes pretty close to being one right now thanks to no less a personage than Governor Adlai Stevenson.

Lively Contest to Develop for Herter's Seat

One office-seeker whose victory attracted comparatively little notice amid the primary day upsets and surprises was former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis who won the Republican nomination for Congress in impressive fashion.

Six months ago, the impression among political observers was that Curtis would be the G.O.P. candidate for Governor in the 1952 election and that Congressman Christian A. Herter would be standing for another term in the district that six times had sent him to Washington.

But the two suddenly changed roles when Herter became a gubernatorial contender and Curtis jumped over to the congressional race, and it can be reliably stated that each moved without consulting the other and that there was no deal or trade.

This is one of the congressional districts that the Democrats think they have a chance of carrying in November despite the fact that since its creation it always has elected a Republican.

That belief stems from the fact that Governor Dever carried the district in his spectacular 1948 and 1950 runs and that President Truman nosed out Governor Dewey in the Herter stronghold in '48. The Democrats reason that if it's possible for a candidate for Governor to carry the sector it's not impossible for a Congressional nominee to do the same.

More than ordinary interest will be centered on the fight made by City Councillor Frederick C. Hailer, Jr., of Rosindale, who will carry the Democratic banner against Curtis.

But except for Herter himself, Curtis is probably the strongest candidate the Republicans could back for Congress in the 10th district. He's liked and respected in almost all parts of the district.

Usually a congressional race follows the trend of the Presidential or gubernatorial fight in the district. The fact that Herter won out in the face of two Democratic sweeps was the exception that proved the rule, and Herter was an exceptional candidate.

To some extent, however, Herter will be helping Curtis in the coming campaign, for the section of Massachusetts in which Herter should be strongest is the congressional district he has served for the past 12 years.

Hailer, of course, is a promising young man who has made amazing strides up the political ladder and is certainly the strongest Democratic candidate ever to run in this district.

He won his first run for the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1948, was re-elected to the State Legislature in 1950, won a place in Boston's first Plan A City Council in 1951 and this year achieved the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th district.

His primary victory, coming exactly five days after the death of his father, was an unusual dramatic one.

This will be a contest between two sturdy vote-getters.

Enrollment Taxes Facilities Of All Newton Music School

The All Newton Music School began its 42nd year as a centre of Music Education with a capacity enrollment of over 400 students for private, instrumental lessons. When the classes in Musicianship begin September 30, enrollment will be close to 600, a student body which will tax all facilities of the Music School Building on Walnut Street, Newtonville. A branch school in charge of Miss Marion Chidsey is held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at the Peirce School on Temple Street, West Newton, offering lessons in piano and violin for the convenience of young students of that section.

This Community Music School founded over 41 years ago, has expanded to the point where it can offer music study of high calibre at reasonable rates to children and adults, opening its facilities to all who wish to study music seriously. It is staffed by professionally trained musicians and functions through a planned curriculum. Instruction is planned to take the student from his very first introduction to the world of music through the time when he may be ready to plan for a professional career. At the same time, those who do not have professional aspirations but seek sheer pleasure through knowledge of music, are carefully considered and given a program to meet their needs and talents. The aim is not merely to "give lessons" but to provide the broadest possible facilities and opportunity for the well-ordered acquisition of understanding, appreciation and taste in music.

The fundamental principle upon which the Music School operates is the correlation of art with life and the needs of the individual student in his adjustments to life are of primary importance and consideration. These ideals and standards of the school are maintained by the interest and cooperative spirit of trustees, advisory council, the director and staff. Parents and students also share in supporting and furthering this cooperation.

The All Newton Music School is not endowed and must be responsible for 85 percent of its expenses, the remaining portion of its budget coming from a small allocation from the Community Fund and from gifts. The school is here to bring music within the reach of everybody in Newton and the surrounding communities. All who are interested in it and help to support it, help to foster better human relationships through the unifying power of music.

Cards are being sent out this week for the classes in musician-ship which will begin September 30 and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and on Saturday mornings. These classes are designed to develop appreciation of music through study of folk songs, rhythm band, and records—this experience preparing him for the study of an instrument and furthering his understanding and enjoyment of music. The classes also include study of notation, reading of rhythm band scores, and of musical form, in short all the elements of which music is made.

The Music School is a member of the Newton Community Chest, the Newton Community Council and the National Guild of Community Music Schools.

URGES A YES VOTE

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Certain it is that the Boy Scouts of America, who are planning to ring doorbells throughout the country, hang "Liberty Bells" on door knobs to remind American citizens to vote, Tuesday, Nov. 4, cannot be labelled a political organization. Yet, these same "boys" right here in Newton will be our citizens of tomorrow. They will partake and share in the doings of our Newton municipal government in the future. They will be our homeowners, taxpayers, businessmen and based on their fundamental training the lifeblood of this rapidly growing city.

I want them to participate in a modern municipal government, the equal of all other municipalities in the Commonwealth, with their mothers and fathers, other relatives and friends endorsing the adoption of a change in the system of voting in Newton's municipal elections. The whole question is as non-political as the free and independent Boy Scout organization is throughout the world. Republican, Democrat and independent alike can endorse this change because of the fair play it represents to all citizens for the present and future development of Newton's municipal affairs.

It will be the only referendum on the ballot for Newton citizens. Vote YES!

HARRY GATH, JR.

Miss Eunice Avery To Lecture on Her Travels in Africa

Miss Eunice Harriet Avery, who is known to all New England as a favorite lecturer on world affairs, returned recently from a tremendously exciting trip of 27,000 miles which took her from Cape Town to Khartoum, and from the Indian Ocean to Dakar on the Atlantic. People for many miles around are looking forward to the opening lecture of the 1952-1953 series which will be held at the Community Playhouse in Wellesley Hills on Wednesday morning, October 15.

People who have heard Miss Avery for the first time only recently as well as those who have been her enthusiastic admirers for many years recognize that in her are blended that are combination of gifts—a profound knowledge, warm human understanding, and the ability to analyze and appraise objectively the forces and personalities that shape trends in different parts of the world.

It is interesting to note that a staff reporter for the Standard, a newspaper in Nairobi, recognized these same qualities. Miss Avery had apparently quoted him that old American Indian prayer, "Great Father, grant that I may not criticize my neighbor till I have walked a mile in his moccasins."

The reporter said in part, "That is why for 2 summers Miss Avery has travelled the world, so that she may see what moccasins the other fellow wore. With her constant travelling companion, Miss Olive Bedford, lively, energetic Miss Avery arrived in Nairobi last Saturday. It is her first visit to East and Central Africa, though the South and North have been explored and toured by this knowledgeable lady."

"Miss Avery's field for lecturing is New England, which includes New York State and City."

After some discussion of Miss Avery's extensive study and travels, this staff reporter concludes, "And what is the result of this detailed study of world affairs and situations? A deep and abiding trust in the American idea of democracy—a delightful sense of humor, and a firm belief in brotherhood between all men."

It is with pride and pleasure that once again the Wellesley League of Women Voters sponsors this series of 10 Wednesday morning lectures on world affairs. The lectures are open to the public and already people from many neighboring towns have subscribed for tickets.

Striped Bass Derby Opens

Ideal Indian Summer weather greeted the opening of the Seventh Annual Martha's Vineyard Striped Bass Derby last week, as the fishing contest got under way with the largest advanced registration in its history.

At the end of the first complete day of weighing-in, the lead was taken by Malcolm Ken-niston, manager of the Edgartown Water Company, who caught a 41 pound, 7 ounce bull-striper off the north side of Martha's Vineyard.

Cars from 14 states carrying fishing rods on top were checked during the first two days, and each ferry brings in man, of the fishermen of past derbies who have made the island their mecca during the contest.

Many families are registered in groups. Dr. Frederick Tudor Milton has registered himself, his wife and his four children, the youngest of whom is four years old and has a special outboard. The youngest entrant is 7-month-old Stacie Winslow Hill, whose parents are sure she will some day be Queen of the Martha's Vineyard Striped Bass
Derby Queen.

Alderman Clyde
S. Casady, Waban, Resigns

After five years of service, Alderman Clyde S. Casady of Ward 5 resigned from the Board of Aldermen Monday night and was paid tribute by ranking members of the Board, in accepting the resignation with "deep regret."

In presenting his resignation,
Mr. Casady, who is moving from the city, asserted that the "responsibility of rapidly growing business makes it necessary for me to lessen my outside activities."

Mr. Casady, who lived at 131
Annawan road, Waban, has purchased a new home in Cohasset.
He lived in Newton for about 15 years and is Executive Vice President of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council.

In making the motion to accept the resignation with "deep regret" Chairman Kenneth E.
Prior of the Public Works Committee said that Mr. Casady was an "exceptionally good" alderman. Chairman Winfield C. Anderson of the Franchises and Licensing Committee offered a resolution that the expressions of tribute be included in a scroll and presented to Mr. Casady.

President Bauckman and Edwin A. Terkelsen, the remaining aldermen from Ward 5 were named a committee to submit names to the full Board to fill the vacancy. To fill committee vacancies temporarily, President Bauckman assumed Mr. Casady's position on the Claims and Rules Committee and named Alderman V. Stoddard Bigelow as acting chairman of the Education Committee and Mr. Terkelsen as member of the Public Works Committee.

By RALPH and TUNNI COOLIDGE

Sure and if your name is O'Connell, O'Donnell, Sullivan or O'Toole, you ought to be after thinking about joining a society that bespeaks of the glories of old Ireland—the Ancient Order of Hibernians!

First organized in Newton on May 15, 1889, the Hibernians are now headed by Charles J. Fagan, 161 Pearl street, Newton. Officially known as the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America, the society was founded in this country in 1836.

The Newton Hibernians, which now number about 100 members, aid in the support of the Columbian Missionary Society, the Working Boys Home in Newton, radio broadcasts of the rosary by Archbishop Cushing, and other interests of the Roman Catholic Church.

Funds are raised for charitable purposes by holding social functions, such as dances (Irish and American), card parties, dinners and movies. Plans are now in progress for the showing of films of Ireland, taken by the Rev. Edward J. Tagne, who will present them at Our Lady's High School about the latter part of October. Proceeds will be left the youth of the parish.

For those who enjoy Irish folk and customs—potential Hibernians, we note in part, the aims of the organization, as stated in the official records.

To promote friendship, unity and Christian charity among its members.

To uphold and sustain loyalty to the government of the United States of America.

To aid and advance by all legitimate means, the aspirations and endeavors of the Irish people for complete and absolute independence.

To foster the ideal and cultivate the history and traditions of the Irish race, throughout the world.

The organization also aids the sick and infirm of its membership, according to the dictates of Christian fraternity.

The Order meets every second Friday evening of each month, at the home of the recording secretary, Colman W. Conroy, 15
Jackson terrace, Newton. John Shea, 24 Middle street, Newton, is vice-president; Matthew W.
Shields, 31 Harriet street, Brighton, financial secretary, and George Harper, 11 Channing street, Newton, serves as division historian.

A county convention was held in Watertown in April, and a state convention followed at the Hotel Statler in Boston in June.
A national convention of the society was held at Atlantic City, N. J., the week of August 4.

Although many young people are members, it is remarkable that two charter members are still active in the order: Edward Timmons, over 90 years old, of Watertown, who originally joined the organization in Ireland, and
A. Leslie Moriarty, 87, of 316 River street, West Newton, a past president.

The other two oldest living members are: Callahan Mc-Carthy, over 70, of 101 Pearl street, Newton, and Mark Conroy of 67 Pearl street, Newton, treasurer. Mr. Conroy, who joined the order in 1912, will celebrate his 85th birthday next month. He is father of seven sons who served in World War II, and one daughter. Mr. Con-roy's age doesn't affect his adventurous spirit, he still winters in Florida and recently flew to Ireland, refreshed as any young chap, upon his return.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians was known in Ireland as a sectarian secret society that "burned the bitches" off every English political appointee that stepped a foot on Irish soil, during the days of the Irish rebellion.

In 1905, they carried the torch of freedom, and inflamed the flames of liberty, in the land of the great green shamrock.

At that time, it was whispered by the leprechauns—and only in the shades of the forests—the Mollie Maguires and the Ancient Order of Hibernians were one, and that the shadows of Ribbenmen, who were put down in 1852, were waiting the wants of Ireland. But that was a time ago, and we hear no more from the leprechauns.

If you wish to know of the tales of old Ireland, join in charitable functions, or dance the Irish jigs to the tunes of "Paddy McGinty's Goat," or "If You're Irish, come into the parlor—," if you'll be after contacting one of the above gentlemen mentioned —whether you be man or woman, for sure there's a ladies auxiliary, too—you may rest assured you'll be welcomed—as the "flowers in May that bloom in Donegal."

day evening testimony meeting at 8 p.m. The nature of reality as perly spiritual, divine and good, will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality," which will be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is from 1 Chronicles (29:11) "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all." The Lesson-Sermon begins with these words from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him." (Eccl. 3:14). From "Science and

Rosh Hashanah Message of Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, Temple Shalom

"The prophets of doom are going out of style, and a growing sense of national maturity cautions Americans from engaging in infantile outbursts of pessimism in our times." This was the message that Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, spiritual leader of Temple Shalom of Newton delivered last evening at the New Year Services.

Over a thousand people gathered together as the guests of the First Unitarian Society of West Newton to use their spacious facilities for New Year services which began at sundown Friday evening.

Directing her sermon to the theme that "The man of religion is the prisoner of hope," Rabbi Mandel pointed out that the religious psychology of Rosh Hashanah embodies a timeless answer to pessimism and the sin of cynicism.

We cannot permit ourselves to engage in Olympian prophecies of doom or apocalyptic outbursts in the face of a troubled universe. America has come of age and we can no longer be characterized as the philosopher Ortega y Gasset once defined Americans—"a primitive people camouflaged behind the latest weapons."

America has earned the virtues of a commanding position in the world because our nation has begun to share the burden of the suffering of the world. The free nations of the world, for the first time since the establishment of America's supreme position in the world, breathe a sigh of relief because we have put our Narcissus-like posture of isolationism and the gorilla stance of imperialism.

Rabbi Mandel gave a word of encouragement to the young members of his congregation when he scored those who have called the modern generation the "lost generation of immoral youth and demoralized elders." "Young people," he said, "have emerged with a greater understanding and a deeper sense of personal and social responsibility, and they have survived the bread-lines of the depression, the federal doles of The Thirties; total mobilization for war and the treacheries of The Forties, with a heightened sense of personal integrity."

"Notwithstanding the professional pessimists and the publicity men for political aspirants, we in our time have much to be grateful for, and we should be proud of the moral power that our democracy is generating on a global scale. In short, we are conditioned to the crisis of our time not entirely like push-button machines responding blindly to the whims of fate, but rather more and more men are beginning to let their minds and their spirits soar. We are searching once again for a vantage point where we can find meaning and value in our materialistic world."

Rabbi Mandel concluded his sermon with the exhortation that "all men of God are the prisoners of hope; they are shackled to a tradition that redeems even while it holds them fast. There is no escape over the wall; there is no parole for those who are sentenced to a life of responsibility."

Nutrition Center

Magic Carpet Comes to Newton High School Tomorrow

Newton school children will be privileged to see more than one hundred priceless specimens of the art of the book when the trailer-housed "Magic Carpet" of the Grolier Society visits the high school tomorrow (Friday). Celebrating the 500th anniversary of the invention of printing, the exhibit is particularly rich in pre-Gutenberg works, including ancient clay tablets and rare illuminated manuscripts wrought on papyrus and vellum. Beautiful bindings will be shown, of exquisitely tooled leather ornamented with jewels and gold.

The trailer was first displayed at the Canadian National Librarians' Association, and later appeared in New York for the American Librarians' national convention. Recently it arrived in Boston for inspection at Mechanics Building, the Public Library, and Boston University.

Among the items that will be of special interest to Newton children are the first ABCDarium, or Hornbook, printed in 1540, and an Admonition to Youth, adorned with twelve woodcuts. There are also early sets of books intended for juvenile reading. An Erford Donatus, or 15th century grammar may arouse the curiosity of some modern students of grammar, but its strange uncials will defy the ordinary reader.

However, visitors do not need to have great learning in order to appreciate the significance of this exhibit, which symbolizes forty-five centuries of Man's effort to preserve his thought. Love, pride, and skill are plainly revealed to anyone who views these works.

From the Egypt of 4000 B.C. has come the first illustrated book, The Book of the Dead. Persian art is represented by a page from the famous Mahabratra. A Hebrew scroll from the Book of Esther, on vellum, is another valuable highlight. Latin works include a 1498 First edition of Horace, a perfect copy of the first Herodian, and a Vulgate Bible containing a miniature. An extraordinary Book of Hours for the Use of Irish is also to be seen, with full-page miniatures, illuminated capitals, and a long colophon in English. From Paris has come a 1504 printing of The Book of Hours. Germany is represented by a very rare specimen of Gutenberg's Thirty-Six Line Bible, and Spain by an early chronicle of Cortez's voyages in the New World.

One illuminated page portrays St. Peter as a fisherman. The unknown artist who painted the miniature laid colors of lasting brilliance over burnished gold leaf grounded on gesso.

A manuscript page of German music dating from the 12th century is also on display, as well as a host of other notable items.

Bound manuscripts, complete with the chains that once secured them to monastery walls, are a reminder that books have not always been as commonplace as they are today.

by and one love is horses. He has a pleasing, dry sense of humor and a quick smile. At Day Junior High he was president of his freshman class and president of the Junior Red Cross inter-school council. In his sophomore year at Newton High he made the tennis junior varsity.

Bobby is the fourth student from Newton High who has received this particular scholarship. Bruce MacFachian also went to the University of Chicago.

Ninth Polio Case Reported Here

The ninth polio case in Newton, a 9-year-old Newton Corner boy who suffered paralysis of the leg, was listed Friday in the weekly resume of poliomyelitis released by the Newton Health Department.

Commenting on the number of cases in the state, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, director of public health in Newton, declared, "For two weeks in succession reported cases have remained well below the number reported for the week ending August 29. This strengthens the hope that the peak for the year has passed."

"More than half the cases occurred within 25 miles of Boston. The State Health Department still recommends that elective tonsillectomies be postponed in that area as well as in the southern Connecticut Valley and the Merrimac Valley."

Renovated Quarters Of Auburndale Bank Admired

The banking quarters were artistically decorated with large floral bouquets and the personnel of the bank proved to be most cordial hosts.

Residential Division Leaders Meet to Discuss Campaign

Top leaders in the Residential Division of the Red Feather Campaign met at the Nurses' Home at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, last Thursday evening, to discuss the 1953 Campaign program.

Sixty Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, and Majors in the Division were present and David Berkman, Residential Chairman, asked the Division to cooperate in two objectives this year; first, to complete their jobs early and second, to beat last year. He explained that if the Captains, recently appointed by the Division leaders, would start in at once to enroll their workers and keep at it for a day or two they could complete their lists and have their enrollment program behind them and that if they would get their workers out on the first day of solicitation and convince them that they should complete their calls within a few days not only would their work be done earlier but the Campaign would benefit. With respect to the "beat last year" program, Mr. Berkman said that this would apply both to the worker enrollment and the Campaign results. Each of the villages and each of the teams will be supplied schedules showing the percentages of their enrollment as of the various weeks of the preliminary period last year and also percentages of the total amount of money raised during the campaign period last year by those same villages and towns.

William M. Cahill, President of the Newton Community Chest, expressed great satisfaction at the progress in the development of the Campaign and complimented the Residential Division on its fine program and told those present that relations between the Chest and its agencies were excellent and that they can have full confidence in the efficient operation of the Chest and its Budget Committee.

Newton Campaign Chairman, Frank Jerome, stated that the Residential Division supplies each year 75 per cent of the manpower, obtains 60 per cent of the pledges, and raises 34 per cent of the money. He complimented the leadership on the results they have obtained to date and urged a large turn-out at the Newton Kick-Off Dinner on October 29.

A series of meetings for Residential Captains will be held the early part of October. The location for these meetings has not yet been determined but are now planned as follows: Wednesday, October 8, Newton, Newtonville, and Nonantum; Thursday, October 9, Oak Hill, Newton Centre, and Chestnut Hill; Tuesday, October 14, Waban, Newton Highlands, and Upper Falls; Wednesday, October 15, Auburndale, West Newton, and Lower Falls.

"The Legend of Camille Dies Hard"

"The legend of Camille dies hard," says a report from the National Tuberculosis Association. "Many people still believe that tuberculosis is chiefly a disease of young women. Whether this can be traced to the influence of Dumas' dramatic novel and Verdi's tuneful opera, in which the Lady of the Camellias coughs her life away in the last act, or whether it was once really true, is difficult to know. Statistics today tell a different story."

The report goes on to point out that a man in his late forties is the central figure in the TB drama today. The median age of those who die from tuberculosis had risen to 46 in 1949. Twice as many white men as white women die from TB.

If, in addition, you live and work in the city your chances of catching the disease are increased. Stop a moment and picture your crowded living and working conditions, and you will see your chances of coming into contact with an active case of tuberculosis—the only way you can catch the disease.

It is believed that tension and anxiety, as well as hurried and unbalanced meals may make you more susceptible to TB. Good health habits plus a periodic chest X-ray are your best protection against tuberculosis.

sook the campus to devote his full time to the study and interpretation of the most momentous period in human history by tongue and pen to a rapidly growing audience.

Every contributor to the American Red Cross is a member of the organization and is entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting.

not fight matches or flashlights so that they may be mistaken for a fire. If you have lost anything and cannot find it, ask the assistance of the usher. Never smoke in any theatre or other gathering unless it is permitted and then only where it is allowed.

Do not stand in or block the aisles that are used for exits. Never under any conditions shout "FIRE" in any theatre or public gathering. The results can be extremely dangerous. Anyone doing this should be severely punished. If you should detect the presence of fire or smell smoke, leave your seat quietly and contact the manager or usher and acquaint him with your discovery as soon as possible. He can then start to take the proper procedure to call the Fire Department, investigate the matter or start an orderly exodus of the gathering if necessary. This alone is one of the most important reasons for quiet and correct discipline at all public gatherings, so that should any type of an emergency arise everyone can hear the instructions and follow them with the least possible delay, thus saving lives and avoiding unnecessary injuries. It might be the means of saving your own life.

Consider the other people, they have a right to live and enjoy life. The prevention of fires and disasters are as important as the extinguishing of fires and doctored the injured. Correct discipline on your part may save your life and that of others.

Let us all do our part to help make Newton a better place to enjoy the good times in life and be able to enjoy them safely. With your cooperation it can be done.

Dickson Studio
Now Registering
For Winter Season

The Katherine Dickson Dance Studio, which offers classes Tuesday afternoon in the Waban Neighborhood Club and through the week in its Cambridge school, is registering pupils this week for winter classes.

Marianne Keefe of Randlett park, West Newton, will act as a student assistant this year. A member of the advanced class at the Cambridge studio, she does excellent ballet and toe work and was an outstanding performer last May at the Spring Concert of the F. A. Day Junior High School Glee Club.

The Cambridge studio offers departmental work and is staffed by a faculty of six aided by three student assistants.

During the summer, Miss Dickson was a member of the faculty of the Annual Convention of the American Society of Teachers of Dancing in the Hotel Astor, New York. She was also on the faculty of the Dance Teachers' Club of Boston for its convention in Boston.

In addition to her regular classes, Miss Dickson teaches four courses in social dancing at the Boston Center for Adult Education. She has done work at both the Boston and Cambridge Y.W.C.A.'s, has given special lectures at Boston University's School of Social Work and has trained groups of student nurses at the Holy Ghost Hospital, Cambridge, in dancing.

It's Fun to Work for the Salvation Army

"It's fun to work for The Salvation Army" has long been a favorite slogan of the famed organization "with heart to God and hand to man" and, according to Mrs. Milton Cohen, residential chairman for the Annual Friendly Appeal in Newton, her workers are finding out that it's the truth.

"Nearly everyone seems to have a good word for The Salvation Army and many people have their own favorite story of how the organization helped someone in real need as well," Mrs. Cohen explains.

She went on to state that many mothers cite the extensive work of The Salvation Army with boys and girls at fresh air camps, boys' clubs, and day nurseries while others frequently mention the warm-hearted home-like endeavors on behalf of the men and women in the service, and how much it means, especially to young men who have just been drafted and particularly need a "home away from home" to while away some of their off duty hours in the difficult readjustment period from civilian to military life. Still others mention the home and hospital for unwed

Story Hours Was Keynote of the Summer Season

Story Hours keynoted the busy and successful summer at the Newton Boys' & Girls' Library at 126 Vernon street, Newton.

Each Tuesday morning in July, Mrs. Virginia A. Tashjian, Library Storyteller, entertained capacity groups of children who also joined in singing games in spite of the extreme July heat and humidity. Student teachers and children studying at the Underwood School under the auspices of the Boston University School of Education, together with the children participating in the neighboring playground program also attended these Story Hours.

To further aid and stimulate the Boston University educational project, the Boys' & Girls' Library Staff, under the direction of Miss Ann E. Golding, supervisor of work with children, prepared and sent to the classroom special collections of books on subjects to be taught in the six-week period, and gave individual help to the student teachers engaged in preparing topical bibliographies.

Advising Newton children on their summer reading, revising and replenishing the book collection in preparation for the full fall program, and supplying the Girl Scout Camp with collections of books, have also been part of the busy library summer schedule, while all children's rooms in the ten Branch Libraries, as well as the main Boys' & Girls' Library, have displayed worthwhile exhibits of special summer interest.

The winter schedule goes into effect on September 15. The main Boys' & Girls' Library at 126 Vernon street, Newton Corner, will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Saturday from 9 to 12 noon; and from 1 to 6 p.m. Children's rooms at Auburndale, Newton Centre, Newtonville, and West Newton, will be open Monday through Saturday from 1 to 5:30 p.m. For further information about other Branch Libraries, call LA 7-1213.

Drive to Level Off Budget Increases Begun

A drive to level off the rapid rate of increase in the city's budgets will be the principal program of the Newton Taxpayers' Association for 1952-53 announced Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director. Newton's budgets have grown at the rate of a million dollars a year for seven consecutive years so that the $5 million budget of 1945 has become the $12 million budget of 1952.

We have a reasonable chance of success stated Muther, because this year's rise in the cost of living has not been so marked and, except for new jobs due to city expansion, wage and salary costs can be held tighter. Materials and equipment show soft spots in some cases, increases in others, but except for servicing costs on heavy equipment prices have not advanced as rapidly as in the year before.

Thus with labor and materials moving upward more slowly the city's major expense items can be budgeted at a relatively reasonable level, Muther continued, and as for the third category of increased expenses, legislation put in place by the city, we will have to persuade our Newton legislators and other lawmakers from tax minded communities to revise the recent trend.

The fourth major element in increased costs is in the public buildings and public works made necessary by the increased population of the city, stated Muther. However, Newton has practically completed its post war program of repairs and replacement left over from the depression and war period, so that construction of new facilities will be the principal fluctuating factor.

In the opinion of the Newton Taxpayers' Association the rate of new construction and its elaborateness depends just as much upon public opinion as upon post war economies. It is in this field that the Association hopes to bring effective pressure to bear to eliminate undertakings which are "nice but not necessary."

Discontinuance of Auburndale R.R. Station Agent Approved

The discontinuance of the agent at the Auburndale railroad station has been approved by the State Department of Public Utilities following a hearing held last month by the DPU on protests against the closing made by commuters.

"We are of the opinion," the DPU stated in a letter signed by Secretary James M. Cushing, "in view of the small volume of tickets sold and the slight inconvenience which may result to the public, that the services of a ticket agent at the Auburndale station are not required."

The Department explained that the station would be open and heated for morning trains on Mondays through Fridays from the beginning of October to the first day of May. There has been no agent at the station since August 2, after the DPU gave permission to the Boston and Albany Railroad to close the ticket office.

Some commuters had petitioned the Department of Public Utilities for "a public hearing in the matter of the discontinuance." A hearing on the petition was held August 20, and the DPU has ruled that the petition should be dismissed.

The letter from the Department follows:

"A public hearing was held upon the above-entitled matter August 20, 1952.

"Auburndale is located on the main line of the Boston and Albany Railroad 9.19 miles west of Boston in the City of Newton and is served by fourteen out-bound and twelve in-bound passenger trains daily, Monday to Friday, inclusive.

"The agency at this station was discontinued August 2, 1952 with the consent of the Department, which was given on July 9, 1952 after an investigation made upon the request of the railroad to discontinue said agency.

"It appears that prior to said discontinuance the ticket agent was employed from Monday to Friday, inclusive, from 6:45 a. m. to 2:45 p. m. during which period eleven in-bound and six out-bound trains made a stop at this station. There is no freight handled at this location.

"A petition for the railroad submitted the following summary of ticket sales at this station for one week, June 2-6, 1952, inclusive:

12 rides	46 ride	One Way	Total
47	Monday, June 2	39	86
45	Tuesday, June 3	27	72
35	Wednesday, June 4	24	59
41	Thursday, June 5	40	83
40	Friday, June 6	22	61
208	3	152	363

"During the hours when the agent was not on duty a passenger paid his fare on the train. If he desired to purchase a commutation ticket he could do so at Boston, receiving credit for the fare paid toward the purchase price of the reduced fare ticket. After the agency was discontinued this arrangement for the purchase of tickets at Boston was in effect at all hours.

"It was testified by the railroad representatives that the wages paid the agent amounted to $3,618.72 annually and if the agency were discontinued a caretaker would be assigned to open and close the station and care for the fires when necessary, which would result in a substantial saving each year to the company with only slight inconvenience to its patrons.

"Some concern was expressed by the petitioners that they would be required to wait outside during inclement weather. However, a representative of the railroad stated that the station would be open and heated and lighted for the morning trains, Monday to Friday, inclusive, from approximately October 1st to May 1st of each year. The discontinuance of the agent in this instance is in keeping with the present policy of the railroads in order to effect necessary economies by eliminating the sale of tickets at such stations where the volume of ticket sales is small.

"We are of the opinion, in view of the small volume of tickets sold and the slight inconvenience which may result to the public, that the services of a ticket agent at the Auburndale station are not required.

"Accordingly, after notice, a public hearing and consideration, we are of the opinion that this petition should be Dismissed, and it is so ordered."
